CENTRAL CHURCH OF CHRIST
 C. Warner, Pastor

From now until Easter we shall worship, during the Sunday morning worship service, around a series of sermons that lead up to and on the Cross.

 We make a change next Sunday morning in our Bible school in that all classes, excepting those in the Primary department, go directly to their classes, doing away with the opening exercises. This will allow more time for class periods.

Bible school meets at 10:00 a. m. Worship service is at 11. Christian Endeavor groups meet at 7:00 p. m. for all ages and evening worship is at 8:00.

METHODIST CHURCH
 Stearns Cushing, Pastor

Our worship will again center around that great theme which we have been using for this month, "Living for God". Great lives have been produced because they followed great causes and were patterned after great examples. Each Sunday has seen a good increase in our attendance in our Church Loyalty Campaign. Help to do your part and you will be helped.

The church meets each Sunday at 10 o'clock. You'll find just the right class for your children. Bring them with you. The Epworth League meets at 7 p. m. with Clarence Crampton as leader.

A warm welcome awaits you in this friendly church.

LUTHERAN SERVICES
 Legion Hall
 E. M. Butenshon, Pastor

Services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Services will be held each month by the Lutheran pastor of Pendleton. A cordial welcome is extended to all who are interested.

HERMISTON BAPTIST CHURCH
 Grayden D. Loree, Pastor

Sunday morning we shall discuss from a Biblical standpoint the question "Why Join the Church?" The young people meet at 7 o'clock with Bus Hansen leading. At 8:00 o'clock the pastor will bring a message on the subject "The Challenge of Moses".

GARDEN CLUB CHATS

by Mrs. Vera Doyle
 We will have a meeting this Friday, January 24, in the library basement at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. W. Hamm will preside and Mrs. T. A. O'Grady will supervise the program. It will be nice if you will bring your new seed catalog to the meeting. There is a possible chance that you will have a different one than the others have. Since our recent column on house plants was started we have run across several more items of interest.

An unshaded southeast or south window when supplied with shelves near the glass, makes the best indoor location for flowering plants. Many of the ferns, palms, and other foliage plants thrive with strong reflected light as in a north window, although a little sunlight each day is beneficial. Desert plants are accustomed to a dry atmosphere.

Potted plants should be placed in pots sufficiently large to accommodate the roots and insure a moderate, healthy growth; flowering plants will not blossom well if the receptacles are too large. When the earth in a pot becomes full of roots, or pot-bound as it is called, growth is checked, and this in the case of flowering plants has a tendency to induce blossoming. If a foliage plant becomes pot-bound it is well to transfer it to a larger pot. Too much stimulation, as liquid manure, will cause new leaf growth rather than the production of flowers.

By attending the club meeting you will be able to read a paper giving further data on house plants, that may solve your problem on their care.

BOARDMAN NEWS

By Elaine Fisher

The Boardman Yellowjackets lost to Condon Saturday night at Condon. The score was 24 to 40. The return game will be played here Tuesday.

Work is progressing on the Stanfield-Boardman highway. Many new families are here now.

Mrs. Leo Root and Mrs. Ed Barlow returned from Lebanon Thursday where they were called by the illness of their father, W. H. Mefford. He passed away Monday. He was a former prominent resident of this place.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sullivan and children and Miss Elinor Tilden visited on the project over the week end. Both Mr. Sullivan and Miss Tilden formerly taught school here.

Harry Ford was a business visitor in Walla Walla Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Almon Geiss were business visitors in Wallowa Friday. A fellowship dinner was held at the community church Sunday. A council meeting followed the dinner.

LAND COMMITTEE COMPLETES MAP

 Present carrying capacity of land, 1 animal unit to 50 acres.

In the opinion of this committee two major adjustments are necessary in these areas. The first is the construction of firebreaks along the state highways and railroads crossing the area. This adjustment is necessary not only from the standpoint of preserving the natural grasses for grazing purposes but also to prevent large areas of arable land from becoming worthless because of wind-borne sand. Several examples of wind erosion are to be had in this area where fires have destroyed the sage brush and grasses, allowing the wind to get at the soil and resulting in drifting of sand onto adjacent farm lands to a depth of five feet in some instances. Practically all of the major fires in this area have started along highway and railroad rights of way from lighted materials carelessly thrown or sparks emanating from the smoke stacks of locomotives. It is thought that unless fire control measures are adopted along these rights of way, the area will eventually become one of the most wind-eroded districts in the country. The second major adjustment thought necessary in this area is that of deferred grazing, followed by controlled grazing. The committee feels that it is to the ultimate advantage of the stockmen as well as to the reclamation of the area that grazing be deferred for a few years until natural grasses on the range have had an opportunity to recover and that grazing be controlled thereafter in such a manner as to permit natural reseeding every year.
