with the kind of plants, the location, and somewhat with the season. In sections where the temperature falls to 10 degrees F., spring planting is best. Spring planting should be done as early as the ground is dry enough to work or when it springs apart after being squeezed in the hand.

If spring planting must be delayed until after roses have started into growth, plants growing in pots are desirable. They should be set out only after maples come into leaf, or not more than two weeks before oaks come into leaf.

Roses should be planted as soon as possible after they are received. If the plant roots are dry when received soaking them in water an hour or more before planting is desirable.

When ready to be set, the plants should be taken to the permanent location with the roots thoroughly covered, no matter how short the distance. The roses should be planted a little deeper than they were originally.

In planting dormant rose bushes it is desirable to trim the ends of broken roots just before they are put in to the holes, so that there will be good, smooth, fresh surfaces which can callous and heal over. The roots should be separated well, the roots in each layer being spread out like the fingers of the hand. When the hole is partly full of earth, the plant should be shaken up and down to make sure that it is in close contact with the soil under the crown where the roots branch. When the roots are well covered, the soil should be firmed.

One-half to two-thirds of the wood should be removed from rose bushes when they are planted. Weak branches should be taken off. Other pruning should be accomplished by cutting out whole branches rather than by cutting off the ends. Potted plants require no pruning.

Pruning that is to be done after the planting season depends so much on the type of rose and the purpose for which it is being grown that further discussion of pruning will be included under the various types of roses.

DOMESTIC LAUNDRY DEFEATED 33 TO 25

The Hermiston Hot Shots took another game in stride Wednesday night by winning 33 to 25 in a slow contest on the local floor before a fair sized house. The first half was exceedingly slow with a low score of 11 to 8 for Hermiston as the result.

Action picked up in the second session with the Hot Shots increasing their lead to 17 to 11. Led by Cook and Rankin the locals went to work in the last period and sewed up the ball game with several buckets from difficult angles. Cook led all scorers with 13, closely followed by Rankin with 11.

The Hot Shots will play Ione here next Wednesday evening, February 5. The visitors are reported to have a strong aggregation. A grade school preliminary is also being lined up.

Rankin 11 C Mumm 6

BULLDOGS TURN IN WIN OVER UMATILLA

The Hermiston high Bulldogs made it two straight over Umatilla Saturday night when they won a hard-fought battle on the local floor, 30-22. The battle was nip and tuck throughout with both teams seeking to gain an advantage by wearing down their opponents.

A peculiar situation was the result with only six points separating the high scorer of the evening from the low. Tiller won high point honors with 8 points and Lane of Umatilla, who was playing with an injured hand, held low score honors with two. On the Hermiston team three players scored five points, with three players dividing the other fifteen points.

The lineups:

MISS GOLDA MUMMA ACCEPTED IN GUILD

Miss Golda Mumma, local music teacher, this week received her membership card and certificate of membership for her studio in the National Guild of Piano Teachers. This gives her pupils the privilege of entering the national piano playing tournaments which are held in Guild centers each year some time between May 1 and June 15.

The student's objective when preparing to enter the national audition is to win a place upon one of three honor rolls, the district, state, or the national. A senior in high school may earn a high school diploma which meets the entrance requirements of schools, colleges, universities and conservatories belonging to the national association of schools of music. There is also a collegiate and young artist diploma.

Miss Mumma has also been given a professional card in the Who's Who section in the Guild yearbook, entitled "The National Directory of Piano Teachers".

FAMOUS SINGERS APPEAR ON SCREEN

Noel Coward, known to the screen as both actor and playwright, is represented for the first time as a composer in his operetta, "Bitter Sweet," which starts Sunday at the Oasis Theatre with Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy in the co-starring roles. The film is in Technicolor.

Miss MacDonald is seen as Victorian belle Sarah Millick, and Eddy as her Viennese voice teacher, Carl Linden, with whom she elopes on the eve of her wedding to Harry Davenport, played by Edward Ashley. Sarah and Carl live an idyllic life in Vienna until an Austrian cavalry officer, Baron von Tranisch, played by George Sanders, begins playing her attention. Then comes the dramatic denouement. Also shown will be the "Trail of Vigilantes" with Franchot Tone.

GAME COMMISSION TO HAVE SESSIONS

A sure sign that Oregon's 1941 trout season is not too far distant is given in an announcement by the Oregon State Game Commission of a two-day session, February 7 and 8, when regulations for fishing on waters of the state will be promulgated. The hearing will be held in the Portland office of the Commission, 616 Oregon Building.

Suggestions and recommendations of both sportsmen's groups and individuals are welcome. Persons may appear before the Commission or transmit their ideas by mail.
