'KITTY FOYLE' COMES HERE MARCH 28-29

Forced to choose between two heart problems in the stirring climax of the picture, Ginger Rogers finds her decision and the events leading up to it as the motivating theme of "Kitty Foyle," her new starring vehicle for RKO Radio.

Taken from the much-discussed novel by Christopher Morley, the film is a vivid presentation of the career of a "white collar girl," one of the millions of office workers in our modern civilization, and it is said to be Miss Rogers' most important dramatic effort.

The action covers an eleven-year period, beginning with Kitty as a girl just out of business college and seeking a job as the Depression gets under way. Her hectic love affair with a young socialite employer, their marriage and quick annulment when Kitty finds she's made a mistake, her subsequent friendship with a young doctor, her sacrifice and her achievements in the business world, all lead up to the dramatic moment when she has to decide between marrying the doctor or running away with her ex-husband.

Dennis Morgan portrays the socialite and James Craig the doctor. "Kitty Foyle" will be shown March 28-29 at the Oasis theatre.

STRANGE ANIMAL DISPLAYED HERE

Bud Hooker of the Columbia district was in Hermiston Saturday displaying a vicious looking animal trapped in a bucket. After considerable debate the animal was officially classed as a woodchuck far away from its natural habitat. The woodchuck issued forth a shrill chirp that could be heard for a long distance.

Mr. Hooker trapped the animal near his home. He stated that a companion in trapping the woodchuck lost a finger of his glove when he ventured too near.
