"This year, with the threatening shadow of a new World War falling across America, the memorial poppy has new significance", said Mrs. Belt. "It shows that America still remembers and honors those who fell in its defense twenty-three years ago; that Americans still believe that America's free way of life is worth any sacrifice, and that the spirit of patriotism still burns strongly in American hearts."

"The poppies grew on the battle front in France where the young men of America defeated the military might of autocracy in a gallant display of the strength of aroused democracy. When we wear them on Poppy Day, their bright red blooms will remind us that our democracy has the strength to repel any dangers if we will serve as they served. There is inspiration for us all in the poppy of great memories."

"The poppies which the Auxiliary will distribute here have been made by disabled veterans at the Veterans Hospital in Portland. All Poppy Day workers will serve as volunteers and all of the money contributed to them for the flowers will go into the welfare funds of the Auxiliary to carry forward the Auxiliary's work for the disabled, their families and the families of the dead during the year ahead."

WATER NEEDS OF ALFALFA DISCUSSED IN O.S.C. BULLETIN

While alfalfa requires more water than most crops, yields and length of life might be increased considerably if more care were used in finding out when to apply irrigation water, according to conclusions reached in a new U. S. department of agriculture bulletin addressed particularly to Oregon and other western states which grow alfalfa under irrigation. "Irrigation Practices in Growing Alfalfa" is the name of the new Farmers Bulletin 1630, which is a revision of an earlier bulletin. M. R. Lewis, Soil Conservation service engineer at the Oregon experiment station, was one of those who assisted in the revision. The authors believe that in the future irrigation development of arid lands much labor and expense might be saved, and greater profits obtained, by following a skillfully prepared plan of irrigation on each farm. The new bulletin discusses the many different methods of applying water, some of which are suitable to certain types of soil and some to others. The strip-border method is shown to be popular in Oregon, although the Columbia basin states make little use of straight flooding such as is practiced in some regions.

PLANS MADE FOR OBSERVANCE OF POPPY DAY MAY 24

Memory of America's war dead in the first World War will be honored here on Saturday, May 24, when everyone will be asked to wear a memorial poppy in tribute to their service and sacrifice. Plans for the observance of Poppy Day are being completed by the Hermiston unit of the American Legion Auxiliary under the leadership of Mrs. F. B. Belt, Poppy Day chairman. The memorial flowers, made by disabled war veterans, will be offered on the streets throughout the day by the Auxiliary women.
