Out of petroleum - CHICKENS

VITAMIN E is being added to commercial poultry feeds to make hens lay better and increase the "hatchability" of eggs.

Scientists at the "University of Petroleum," Shell's $3,500,000 research laboratories, observed some peculiar crystals in a new product they had made from petroleum... crystals that proved valuable in the artificial creation of Vitamin E—essential to animal fertility!

Also in petroleum, Shell scientists have found a key to synthetic rubber—glycerine—fertilizers—plastics—scores of needed things. These are by-products of their main assignment: finer Shell Gasoline.

NEW Solutized SHELL

TWO SCIENTIFIC FACTORS advance the Road Performance Rating of new Shell Gasoline to an all-time high:

1. It is refined with the Solutizer Process (originated by Shell's research laboratories, Patent No. 2,149,379). This steps up gasoline performance by removing the "pro-knock mercaptans."

2. Thermal conversion makes it extra rich in iso-compounds similar to iso-octane—first produced commercially by Shell scientists to give America 100-octane aviation gasoline.
