TEN-DAY FISHING LICENSE AVAILABLE

On July 1 there will be a change in the non-resident angling license. The two-day non-resident angling license for $2.00 has been eliminated and in its place will be sold a ten-day angling license for $3.00.

Spanish American War residents may obtain special licenses after five years of residence in Oregon instead of twenty years, as previously required.

Other new game laws include provision for enlargement of the area of the Corvallis watershed will animal refuge; setting aside an area east and north of Canyon Creek in Grant county for bow and arrow hunters during deer season; making provision for avoiding conflict and difficulty in the enforcement of game laws on the Snake River where that river serves as the boundary line between Idaho and Oregon.

Another law passed by the legislature prohibits the taking of salmon or any other food fish by any means on the Willamette river or its tributaries after July 1.

An emergency clause was attached to the bill granting the Game Commission power to set seasons and bag limits, and as a result this law became effective as soon as the governor signed the bill.

FREEZING OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES ARE EXPLAINED

Advance preparation of fruits and vegetables for freezing is one of the chief factors of success or failure in the use of storage lockers, says E. H. Wiegand, head of the food industries department at Oregon State college, in the latest revised circular on "Freezing Fruits, Vegetables, and Meats." This circular, available from any county extension office, contains general directions for handling foods in cold storage and includes a tabulated list of fruits and vegetables with brief directions for handling.

In general, fruits require no preliminary treatment except washing and sorting. The exceptions are apples, peaches and apricots, which require either pitting or peeling, and even blanching to prevent the browning of the surface. Apples and peaches are also sliced for ease in handling and better absorption of sugar. In handling vegetables scalding or blanching is an essential step in the freezing process. Unless treated in this manner the vegetables will spoil or change so as to be undesirable.

Various kinds of containers are recommended by Professor Wiegand, including glass jars which are used in ordinary home canning operations. Lacquered tin cans with slip tops may be obtained and these are usable year after year. Waxed paper containers are suitable for use once, but are not safe to use a second time with liquids.

The circular also contains some pointers on handling meat and fish, although detailed directions for these foods are contained in another circular, HE 1100.

TOWNSEND CLUB NEWS

The local club will have a social meeting June 13 in the Columbia park hall. A short business session will be conducted, and the remainder of the evening will be turned over to Mrs. Corman for games and a program. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting. Every member is urged to be present, and the public is always welcome.

We wish to notify the public that Townsend members have purchased land west of the Wilkes place on the Diagonal road for building a new club house. The concrete is to be poured this week. The building will be 36 by 60 feet. The building committee thanks all those who willingly gave their help. Townsendsites, this is your new home. Call Wm. Kik for any further information.

From a flash from Washington, D. C.—"So remarkable was the response to Dr. Townsend's letter to the congressmen, asking their desires to have our bill on the floor, to total of 164 having replied favorably in 9 days, that the Townsend Legislative Steering committee has decided to put a petition in the "well" of the House Tuesday, June 10th."
