Youth Orchestra

What has been acclaimed by critics as one of the most successful in musical experiments in recent years will come to a close July 5 as Leopold Stokowski's second All-American Youth Orchestra plays its final concert in Hollywood. This event will mark the end of an eight-week trans-continental tour through the United States. The famous director, Stokowski, is pictured above with two of his young musicians.

CIRCUS COMING TO PENDLETON MONDAY

The Pendleton Elks' Softball Association will present the Polack Bros. Circus and Thrill Show Monday and Tuesday July 7th and 8th at the Round-up Grounds in Pendleton for the benefit of the Softball Lights Fund. There will be a matinee Tuesday afternoon at 2:15. Evening performances will start at 8:15 with the gate opening at 7:00 p. m.

The Circus will feature Cap't. Noble Hamiter and his group of black-maned and nubian fighting and performing lions, Spiler's performing seals, Polack Bros. Circus' famous black horse troupe, Senorita Teresa, sensational and daring lady trapeze star, Randow's troupe of clowns, Mona, performing elephant, the renowned "Aerial Comets" performing 125 feet above the ground, the Gasca troupe of "rolling globe" and tight wire experts, King's dogs, and many other outstanding acts from the world's largest tent circuses. This show is not a carnival but a full fledged Circus with stars of the sawdust world as the attraction.

The Circus will be the first in Pendleton in many years and will offer features never before seen in the Northwest.

All members of the softball ass'n. have advance tickets for sale and reserve seats are on sale at the Circus office in Pendleton at the City Hall (Fire Chief's Office), Phone 839.

TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS INCREASE 44%

While fatal accidents were held to no increase, total traffic accidents in the state of Oregon during the month of May showed an increase of 44 per cent over the crashes reported in the state the corresponding month last year, according to figures released by the state Traffic Safety Division today.

There was a total of 4,188 traffic accidents in Oregon in May, an increase of 1,287 accidents over the total of 2,912 mishaps in May of last year. Eighty-two percent of these accidents resulted in property damage only.

Of Oregon's 36 counties, only ten reported fewer accidents this May than in May a year ago. These counties were Baker, Deschutes, Douglas, Harney, Hood River, Josephine, Lake, Tillamook, Union and Willamette.

Counties showing greatest increases in the number of accidents were Malheur, 177 per cent; Polk, 144 per cent; Lincoln, 105 per cent; Washington, 85 per cent; Clatsop, 60 per cent.

incident reporting speaks volumes for the spirit of cooperation on the part of the public in the state's program of greater safety for those who walk and drive."

"This increase in the total number of accidents is attributed, in part, to the very fine record of accident reporting in the nation and our reporting has improved considerably during the past year.

In Oregon, state law requires the reporting of all traffic accidents in which any property damages involved in addition to those which result in death or injury. These reports are confidential, their contents may not be admitted as evidence in any court action.

"Comprehensive accident reporting is important because, only through analysis of these reports can enforcement, engineering and educational authorities direct their program of accident prevention. The fact that Oregon is getting such excellent ac-

Each month these reports are analyzed by enforcement, engineering and educational agencies in the state and measures designed to reduce accidents are based on the facts revealed on these statistical studies.

LAMB FEEDING TO BE SPONSORED BY E O WHEAT LEAGUE

A lamb feeding contest with wheat announced for eastern Oregon 4-H members by the Eastern Oregon Wheat League in cooperation with the Oregon State extension service. The feeding period will begin about September 1 and will continue 90 days, ending at the time of the annual convention of the league at Hep-pner.

While feeding wheat to livestock is not likely to be as profitable as formerly under the increased price of wheat, the contest will be carried through as a means of acquainting more people in each county with the possibilities and methods of feeding wheat in preparation for a possible lower price period following the present defense emergency, says Charles W. Smith, state county agent leader and secretary of the wheat league.

Each contestant will be sold 12 white-faced lambs this summer, which will have been graded in advance so that each boy or girl will receive, as nearly as can be determined, the same quality of lamb as the others. After the feeding period, each contestant must exhibit 10 lambs at the state convention. Expert graders will be on hand to rate each lamb as to market value after which each contestant will receive a bonus of 50 cents per head for each lamb grading top market quality.

The feeding project is being handled by a general committee consisting of the county agents and a wheat-livestock grower in each of the chief wheat counties: H. A. Lindgren, extension livestock specialist; D. E. Richards, superintendent of the eastern Oregon branch experiment station; L. J. Allen, assistant state club leader, and Smith.

The only requirement as to feed used is that wheat be the only grain fed. The contestant may use any roughage he desires, or even add other concentrates, although accurate cost records must be kept and reported. Approximately 32 club members are expected to participate in Gilliam, Sherman, Willamette, Morrow, Wasco, Baker and Umatilla
