Let's Get On An Even Keel!

The news columns of the Pacific Northwest are full of sensational reports of things in Hermiston. Also conservative editorial columns have picked up the stories as valid from large display heads to the final 30. Some are even sighting the smokes of a National scandal arising from the actions of somebody, somewhere, somehow. If only now we can boil it all down to real facts and sanity!

There is no actual distressing housing situation. There has been no great violation of laws of sanitation, though there are cases, and more in sight. There has been no hi-jacking of prices, only a natural advance with rising costs. The government authorities must be granted some measure of consideration because of the rush of work required. The citizens of the various communities should be given the same consideration because of the immensity of a program dropped into their laps. The job was big for everybody and no one can say that everyone has not done his part to shove it along.

We have had a bad road situation but that is ironed out. We have had a worse school problem but hopes are strong that it will be balanced very soon. The President has allocated over $200,000 for sewer service and water systems and safe sanitation is in sight.

The Herald suggests that everybody keep his head, and help pull the work and the organization of our social problems to a sane development, which can be done.

We do not want the communities to be scandalized, nor do we believe that the government in its tremendous and splendid efforts should be harassed with evil and sensational reports.

We, who live here, are either completely dumb, or there is not half the troubles here that are now being reported. The stories make good writing, and now that the war is getting somewhat stalemated the newspapers have found a good morsel to roll under their tongues and sell circulation.

Let's all get to work in balancing the situation.

ECONOMY
ON YOUR FARM

The Superior Performance of John Deere Tractors at the Economy Matches at Cherokee, Iowa, is Typical of the Every-Day Economy of John Deere Two-Cylinder Tractors on the Farm.

THE rock-bottom fuel economy of John Deere Tractors, demonstrated again and again in various tests throughout the country... proved by the experience of thousands of farmers... is again verified by the results of the tractor economy matches held at Cherokee, Iowa, early in September.

John Deere Tractors, burning the low-cost fuels, romped home with first, second, third, fourth, and fifth places in the rubber-tired events, and with first and second places in the steel-wheeled contests.

Here are the results:

RUBBER-TIRED TRACTOR CLASS

Place	Make of Tractor	Contestant	Fuel Cost per Gallon	Fuel Cost per Acre
1st	John Deere "H"	John Patterson	8.2¢	9.36¢
2nd	John Deere "H"	Lyle Mason	7.5¢	9.55¢
3rd	John Deere "A"	Laurence Kohns	8.2¢	10.7¢
4th	John Deere "H"	Laurence Gummow	8.2¢	10.8¢
5th	John Deere "H"	Geris Boothby	8.2¢	12.1¢

The fuel cost of the next nearest entry was 20.7 cents per acre—71 per cent higher. Some entries ran more than twice as high as the John Deere.

STEEL-WHEELED TRACTOR CLASS

Place	Make of Tractor	Contestant	Fuel Cost per Gallon	Fuel Cost per Acre
1st	John Deere "A"	Harvey Fick	8¢	12¢
2nd	John Deere "B"	Marvin Mann	8¢	13¢

Fuel economy like this is a conclusive demonstration of the real money to be saved by using low-cost fuels in John Deere two-cylinder Tractors. And the reason for this economy is exclusive John Deere two-cylinder engine design... after seventeen years still the most practical development in farm tractors.

You want this same economy on your own farm. Enjoy it this year and for many years to come with a John Deere Two-Cylinder Tractor. See us today.
