Defense Steel Erected in Half of Normal Time

This building at Curtiss-Wright Buffalo plant accounted for 10,000 of the 60,000 tons of steel for defense industries erected by Bethlehem up to July 15th.

Chrysler Tank Arsenal at Detroit, for which erection of steel was commenced on November 20th, 1940, is now in operation.

Seven thousand tons of steel for the Westinghouse naval ordnance plant at Canton were erected at a pace of 122 tons for each working day.

Assembly building for Republic Aviation Corporation, Farmingdale, N. Y. Steel was erected in two months and two days.

STEEL framework comes first when a modern factory building is born. Industrial construction for national defense is now being accomplished in some instances in half as much time as under normal conditions. It is indicated in a report made public by Bethlehem Steel Company's Division of Fabricated Steel Construction.

The report reveals that up to July 15th this company alone completed the erection of 60,000 tons of steel construction for defense manufacturing industries. Steel that might normally have been erected in 18 months was erected in nine months. A single group of buildings for long-range bombers covered 1,356,000 square feet, enough area for 27 full-sized baseball fields. A naval gun plant calling for 7,000 tons of steel construction was erected in 60 working days. The average elapsed time, including holidays and Sundays required to complete each one of more than twenty major defense industry projects was 66 days. The longest time required on any one job was 122 calendar days, and the shortest time 12 days.

The steel is up, the report indicates, and in some cases has since been roofed over and is now in production, for new units for the Douglas bomber factory at Long Beach, Calif., for the Westinghouse naval gun factory at Canton, for new buildings for the Curtiss-Wright airplane factory at Buffalo, for an armor plate machine shop for the Midvale Steel Company, buildings for the Vultee Aircraft Company, the Republic Aviation Company, the Chrysler Tank Arsenal and a submarine-runway for the Electric Boat Company of New London.

CENTRAL CHURCH OF CHRIST

C. Warner, Pastor

God never made a promise that He hasn't kept or will keep. In Isaiah 42: 6 and 7 He has made four great promises. We shall consider them Sunday morning at the eleven o'clock service, "The Four Wheels of Divine Promise" and for the Sunday evening service "Christ Seeking The Lost."

Three Endeavor societies meet at seven o'clock, Junior, Senior and Adult.

Bible school 10 a. m. with classes for all ages.

The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Council will be held Wednesday, October 8. That includes all members of all groups.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

REALITY" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 28.

The Golden Text was, "Behold, I create new heavens and a new earth; and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind" (Isa. 65:17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty; for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all. Now therefore, our God, we thank thee, and praise thy glorious name" (II Chronicles 29:11, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-all. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality nor existence except the divine Mind and His ideas. . . . He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as Infinite Spirit or Mind. Hence all is Spirit and spiritual" (p. 331).

San Francisco Mounted Posse and "Canine Police" Revue— to Show at Pacific International Livestock Exposition Portland, October 4 to 11

According to I. B. Wilcox, Jr., President of Pacific International Livestock Exposition, this year's program of entertainment will equal any held in the past from a standpoint of quality and variety.

A feature attraction—the San Francisco Mounted Posse. This posse—famous for its smart appearance and spectacular drill—is comprised of 21 men whose saddle outfits alone cost from $1000 to $1,500 apiece.

Another main event—the "Canine Police" Revue—presents Doberman Pinschers trained to the highest degree of efficiency in Police work—accomplishing amazing feats—such as hurdling a 9-foot wall without assistance—guarding any given object against theft, and many others.

An event of special interest to many will be the thrilling driving competition by 6-Horse Draft Teams

In addition to these special feature numbers at each performance in the big arena, plenty of thrills can be expected from the Rodeo under direction of that well known veteran producer, Verne Elliott, and his associate Don Nesbit, assisted by Abe Lefton as announcer and with Lomer Holcomb, clown of clowns, adding the comedy touch.

Entries in the Horse Show supply contrast with brilliant exhibitions of skilled horsemen and women and their mounts.

Exhibits at the Pacific International Livestock Exposition will include Beef and Dairy Cattle, Sheep and Goats, Hogs, Horses, Poultry, Pet Stock, Dogs, Land Products, and Industrial Exhibits. An outstanding exhibit will be one supplied by the United States War Department.
