MERRILY WE ROLL ALONG

As we roll along on the new diagonal road to the Ordnance Depot, we are prone to forget the effort made to secure its construction. Already we scarcely recall the washboard surface, rocks and dust and car wrecking conditions prevailing such a short time ago.

But lest we forget too soon and not take lesson therefrom, let's record here that this same beautiful, smooth surface allayed almost a national disgrace. For nearly four months 2500 cars of workers on a national defense project pounded their way each day to the field of duty at a damaging cost of not less than a quarter of a million dollars. During that time these workers paid the state not less than $40,000 in gas taxes, and the road cost less than half the sum.

The road was laid out early last April. Money was appropriated by Congress to build it. But delay followed. Then followed efforts of local citizens, county, state and government officials to get quick action. Numerous wires were sent to Washington, and to the governor, WPA heads, U. S. Senators and Congressmen, and the matter grew into a hot subject. Finally red tape and bureau entanglements were broken down, and finally then a contract was let and the road built in two weeks time. To go into all the details might hurt someone, somewhere, which is not the object of this little review.

The point we wish to make is mainly that we should not let such a thing happen again. We may soon need other such roads, and with this past experience kept in our minds, we are warned not to sleep one day on the job, or allow anyone else to dilly dally in his duty.

STANFIELD NEWS

By Mrs. Rose Hedrick

J. H. Kruse is fast getting his large building formerly known as the Brown Garage ready for occupancy. Three apartments are let and Dr. E. Wilcutt has his office there; Happy Jack who has maintained George's Cafe on Coe Avenue will move soon to new quarters in the Kruse building. There will also be a Gamble store.

Rev. B. F. Mitchell attended the Presbytery at Pilot Rock on Tuesday.

YOU CAN BURN ANOTHER BETTER SIGHT LAMP 4 HOURS FOR 1 CENT in the average home for electricity here is cheap!

Why risk straining your precious eyes just because others are using the one good lamp? PP & L has made electricity so cheap every home can afford plenty of light by each chair where people read, study or sew. Stop in at the stores tomorrow and see the displays of smart new 1942 lamps. But be sure you select an I. E. S. model, for only these better-sight lamps have translucent bowls to filter out harmful glare, and make seeing easy and safe. And when you have enough lamps, don't neglect to use them—sight is priceless—light is cheap.

PINE CITY NEWS

By Mrs. Bernice Wattenburger

Lee Bartholomew of Cleveland, Ohio, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bartholomew of Echo, was an all night visitor Friday, at the home of his uncle, Charley Bartholomew.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Ayres and daughter and Mrs. Ruby Coxen and son, Jerry, spent from Thursday until Sunday in Portland and Newport visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Myers and family called at the Abercrombie home Sunday.

Miss Mamie Healy of Portland spent Sunday and Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Healy.

Mrs. Burl Wattenburger of Echo and Mrs. Floyd Van Orsdall of Pendleton, and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Strain and son of Portland left Thursday for Weiser, Idaho, to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Strain. On Saturday a sister, Mrs. Victor Bengoechea of Jerome, Idaho, joined them and Sunday a family reunion was held on the occasion of Mr. Strain's 71st birthday. It was the first time in 14 years the children were all at home together.

One of the men cutting hay on the Boylen ranch set an ant pile on fire and it got away and set one of the sheep sheds and pens on fire Monday. Neighbors were called in to help put out the fire and to keep it from spreading.

Marion Finch is deer hunting this week with Ed Hughes.

Burl Wattenburger and Alvin Strain are deer hunting in the John Day country.

Charley Bartholomew and daughter, Mrs. Fay Finch, were Pendleton callers Tuesday. Mr. Bartholomew is getting a new Chevrolet car.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Ayres were Pendleton callers Tuesday. Mr. Ayres is seeing an eye doctor about a very infected eye.

For short, easy turns, you just step on the Individual Foot Brakes—Both hands are free to operate the steering wheel

YOU SAVE PLENTY OF TIME IN TURNING WITH A JOHN DEERE TRACTOR

You've heard about the fellow who could turn his car around on a dime. Well, we're not making any extravagant statements like that about our John Deere Tractors, but we do know that you can pivot a John Deere Tractor within its own length—it's done by means of the individual rear wheel brakes—and, say, does that save you time at the row ends. You have both hands free to operate the steering wheel all the time—all you do is press down on the foot brake, twist the steering wheel, and you're ready to go down the next row—it's great, too, for holding the tractor on sidehill work.

Come in and talk it over.
