

LEMON HARVEST COMPLETED HERE

Harvest operations of the Hermiston lemon crop were completed this week when Charles Hodge, Chevrolet dealer, and lemon grower deluxe picked the one and only lemon remaining on his tree. The fruit was displayed at The Herald office this week and drew considerable comment especially after the editor placed a ripe lemon and a grapefruit with the green lemon and explained that all three came from the same tree.

Although the story was doubted by some, others dubbed it pretty fair Commercial club propaganda.

ELK HUNTERS FIND GAME RATHER THIN

Elk hunters who left this week for the mountains full of high hopes still have the hopes but very little elk. To date nary an animal has been reported in Hermiston although several have been seen going through loaded in trailers.

Excuses for not bringing home any bacon are almost as numerous as those of a fisherman but nevertheless no game is forthcoming.

COMMUNITY COOK SCHOOL ARRANGED

"Food to keep you fit with more vitamins the natural way" is the slogan of Mrs. Paul Bracher and Mrs. Glenn Case, who will conduct a community cooking class in the Hermiston high school, Saturday afternoon, November 15, at two o'clock. Vegetables definitely retain that "oomph" vitamin and lots of natural glamour when prepared the modern way, according to Mrs. J. H. Reed, who will be the chairman of the meeting.

"The public is invited to this community cooking school, which is a part of a food and defense program of the Umatilla County National Defense Council. This Hermiston cooking school is the only one to be given in this area of Umatilla county, and all homemakers are invited," says Miss Frances Clinton, in charge of county arrangements for five similar schools.

They are jointly sponsored by the Oregon State College Extension Service and the Surplus Marketing Administration. Local grocers are doing their bit by supplying some of the food required for the demonstrations.

TOWNSEND CLUB TO HOLD MEETING

A regular meeting of the Hermiston Townsend club will be held Tuesday, November 11, in the Townsend pavilion one mile east of town beginning at 8:00 o'clock. The public is invited to attend.

The Townsend club sponsors a public dance every Saturday night in the pavilion.

SCHOOL CHILDREN RECEIVE TESTS

Immunization clinics were held at the Umatilla school in the morning and at Columbia school in the afternoon of October 24th. At Umatilla school Mrs. T. O. Pound assisted Dr. R. H. Wilcox, county health officer, and Miss Ethel Bruce, public health nurse. There were given 25 schick tests, 9 diphtheria toxoid, 11 smallpox vaccinations and 36 tuberculin tests.

At Columbia school, Mrs. Vernon Cowell assisted the county health officer and nurse. Twenty schick tests, 8 smallpox vaccinations, 14 diphtheria toxoid injections and 31 tuberculin tests were given. Those who received their first injections of diphtheria toxoid at this clinic may receive their second injection at the return clinic in December.

Holdman school held their immunization clinic on November 4th, at which time smallpox and diphtheria immunizations were given. Seven children were given physical examinations by Dr. R. H. Wilcox, county health officer.

LOCAL AUTHOR'S BOOK PRAISED BY ITS READERS

Word has been received by the author of "Blue Bucket Nuggets," the story of Oregon's lost immigration, is now in its second edition.

The author of "Blue Bucket Nuggets," Mrs. Catherine DeMoss, has resided in this locality for a number of years and, for a period of thirteen years, was employed as teacher in our local schools. It was while so employed that she decided upon writing a book that might lend interest to the study of Oregon history.

The book has been accepted by the American Library Association and has given the author honorary membership in the Eugene Fields Society, national association of authors and journalists.

Doctor Daniel Poling, Editor-in-chief of the Christian Herald which is published in New York City, has said in his book review, "This is a delightful Oregon story, a tale of Oregon's Lost Immigration," and continues with a synopsis of the story.

The following is a quotation from the Oregon Journal of Portland: "Catherine Cornwall DeMoss, daughter of pioneers, has written the book in a manner that will hold both juvenile and adult attention. She has developed an exciting plot etched with historical highlights and colorful descriptions of the Oregon trail and its detours. This skillfully shaded, basically true story is an entertaining, education contribution to Americans."

Hon Charles N. McNary has written, "I have read the book with devouring interest and supremely enjoyed every chapter—a splendid contribution to the history of Oregon—written in a most engaging style and covering a tragic bit of history that has been little explored."

Mrs. DeMoss plans a continuation of the story of "Blue Bucket Nuggets" in a book which will probably be entitled "Test of the West."

ASSEMBLY TALK IS INTERESTING

Dr. Martin Hall, ex-German newspaper correspondent and reportedly ousted from Germany, proved an interesting speaker during an assembly at the high school here Tuesday. Dr. Hall told of the conditions in the warring continent and explained the various methods used to promote nazism.

Dr. Hall talked with considerable brogue and many students at times had difficulty in understanding him.

buildings must be completed, roads must be finished, pipe must be laid and many other smaller incidentals. The Major stated that this work takes a long time and would probably take until after the first of the year to complete. It is estimated that approximately 1500 men will be needed for several weeks to come.

Locally the stores and business houses will gradually adjust themselves to meet the changing conditions. Although the big rush is probably over, there will continue for several months at least a healthy flow of business on Main street. In addition to work at the depot, there will be road building and house construction. There will be no falling back to the old level for many months to come.

Major Schuppner, now feeling a little more pert following his all night vigil at the job, expressed his appreciation to the citizens of Hermiston and surrounding territory for their courtesies during the past months. "Without your help our job here would have been much more difficult. We want you to know that we appreciate everything you have done for us and our workers."

It's great to be an American!
