JUNIORS TO PRESENT
COMEDY NOV. 28TH

"Practice for the junior play, 'Mistakes at the Blakes,' is coming along fine," says Miss Lynch, the director. "We've had a bit of difficulty in filling the part of 'Billikins' which was originally given to Jack Drake, but things seem to be ironing out very nicely."

This hilarious 3-act comedy will be staged in the school auditorium Friday, November 28, at 8 o'clock. The roles of the two brothers, Tom and Gary Blake will be portrayed by Kenny Elwood and Bill Bucknum. They have journalistic tendencies and their writings get them into all sorts of jack pots, even with their unsympathetic land lady, Mrs. Perkins, played by Doris Follett.

Lyle Tilden does a bit of clever acting in his portrayal of the timid lawyer, Herman Carter, and he appears to be rather hen-pecked by his better half, Mrs. Carter, enacted by Mary Sommerer.

The go-getter with ideas of her own is Genevieve Blinston in the role of Linda Larson. Her love scenes with Kenny Elwood, alias Tom Blake, are all one-sided, but she makes up for both of them. When she does not get her own way, she rings in her prize-fighting brother, Billikins, who always get the situation a little more entangled. Billikins will be played by David Hamm, a post-graduate.

And who's crazy, and who gets the prize package from Tom and Gary's Uncle Mac? Roberta Sims in the person of Wanda Dunning will help you figure that out. Mrs. Pinkle and the nurse (Dorothy Hiatt and Marjorie Knapp) employed by the Bruce Home for Feeble Minded will convince you that half the cast is crazy.

Mrs. Greengas, one of the nervous boarders, will be played by Barbara Follett and the expressmen, Mike and Ike, by Carl Long and Alfred Buell.

Humor refuses to be catalogued so youth and elders join hand in hand to bring you an evening of mirthful nonsense. "Save your stitches! Laugh-ter ahead!!"

PAST WEEK BRINGS FREEZING WEATHER

The winter season is now at hand with the past week bringing several nights of freezing temperature. Although flower lovers have stored away many of their favorite bulbs and taken in other plants, Jack Frost has still spared a few flowers in protected places.

The report for the week, according to Chas Taylor, weather man, follows:

November 5	69	45
November 6	61	30
November 7	57	26
November 8	57	29
November 9	58	28
November 10	58	27
November 11	63	29

COMMUNITY DINNER FOR THANKSGIVING

The Umatilla project farm bureau and the farm bureau ladies' auxiliary are sponsoring a community Thanksgiving dinner at the club house Thursday, November 20. Anyone wishing to take part in this dinner is asked to get in touch with the committee in charge.

The committee handling arrangements is composed of Mrs. Claude Upham, A. H. Cable, Mrs. Baxter Hutchison and Mrs. H. J. Ott.

ART FAIR TO BE AT PENDLETON

All Umatilla county is invited to join with Pendleton and Heppner in promoting the second annual Art Fair. This Art Fair, which is nation-wide, will be held at Pendleton during the week of November 17-23 in the Memorial Hall of the Episcopal church. Its purpose is to develop interest, appreciation, and potential sales of all types of art created by American artists. The slogan adopted by the national council is "A piece of American art in every American home."

The various classifications of art for which entries are asked for exhibition and sale include: Painting—oils, pastels, water colors, pen drawings, Indian craft—basketry, leather work, bead work. Photography—tintings, enlargements, landscapes, etc. Creative hobbies—bird houses, costume jewelry, etc. Crafts—ceramics, block printing, plastics, pottery, wood carving, sculpturing, tooling, agate cutting and polishing, needle-work, textiles, weaving, basketry and pewter work.

Those interested in exhibiting and offering for sale any piece of art or handcraft may contact Mrs. Jack Mulligan at the Pendleton Music House or Mrs. Cecil Freitag at the Gem Shop in Pendleton. The central committee consists of Mrs. Mac Hoke, general chairman, Mrs. Cecil Freitag, Miss Margaret McDevitt, Mrs. Jack Mulligan, Mrs. Bryson Cooley and Mrs. E. C. Kerns.
