MEN WANTED FOR U.S. NAVAL RESERVE

According to an announcement made this week in Washington by order of Secretary of the Navy Knox, "All men now enlisting in the Naval Reserve will be retained on active duty throughout the period of the national emergency, but they will be released to inactive duty as soon after the emergency as their services can be spared, regardless of the length of time remaining in their enlistment."

Enlistment in the U. S. Naval Reserve is for four years but, if a man enlists today and the emergency ends within a period of several months, he will be returned to his civilian job as soon as possible after the emergency is over, and will not be required to complete his four year term in active service.

Four classes of service in the United States Naval Reserve need men urgently today. They are Class V-3, which includes radio and communications; V-5, aviation; V-6, for trade specialists or men desiring trade or vocational training; V-7, fleet officers. A more detailed outline of each class follows below.

Men with specialized training in radio, searchlight and semaphore signaling or Morse telegraphy may be enrolled in Class V-3, the communications class of the Naval Reserve. These men will be enlisted as petty officers with ratings according to their degrees of proficiency. Pay for men enrolling in this group ranges from $60 a month for a petty officer third class to $99 a month for a chief petty officer. An additional allowance of $1.15 per day is made for men with dependents who have the rating of petty officer second class or higher.

A man with at least two years of college education who desires to enter naval aviation will be enlisted as a seaman second class in Class V-5 of the Naval Reserve. After a month's preliminary training the V-5 recruit will become a naval aviation cadet and will be sent for advanced training to one of the three principal naval flight training centers: Pensacola, Fla.; Jacksonville, Fla.; or Corpus Christi, Texas. On completion of this advance course which requires approximately seven months, the V-5 cadet will be designated as a naval aviator and will be commissioned as an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

During the first month of training V-5 recruits are paid $36. On completion of the first month's training the V-5 recruit is designated as a naval aviation cadet and will be paid $75 a month, plus $1 per day living expense. Upon commission as an ensign his pay will be increased to approximately $245 a month and in addition he will receive regular pay bonuses of $500 for each year he serves in active duty after the training period.

Class V-6 in the U. S. Naval Reserve offers opportunities for men with specialized training to continue their trades and at the same time serve their country. This group includes specialists of any kind such as electricians, carpenters, machinists, stenographers, accountants, plumbers, cooks, bakers and many other trades and vocations. These men will upon enlistment be given ratings in accordance with the amount of previous specialized training they have had.

Men with no previous specialized training will be enlisted in Class V-6 as apprentice seamen with pay of $21 a month. Directly following enlistment the new recruit will be sent to one of the four Naval Training Stations for a short period. At the Training Station the apprentice seaman will be given an aptitude test and if he passes this test successfully he will be sent to a Navy Trade School. Approximately 5500 men are admitted to Navy Trade Schools each month. This schooling, valued at hundreds of dollars, is free and the seamen receive their regular Navy pay while receiving instructions.

Those applicants who do not pass these tests for admission to a Navy Trade school will be sent to duty aboard ship where an opportunity will be given them to train in a trade. Four months after enlistment all non-specialized applicants in Class V-6 will be advanced automatically to seaman second class with a pay increase to $36 a month.

Men with previous specialized training of any kind will be enlisted in the Naval Reserve Class V-6 with petty officer ratings and will be sent immediately to the ship or shore station where they are needed.

College graduates who desire engineering or deck duty as officers in the U. S. Naval Reserve will be enlisted as Midshipmen, Class V-7. Upon completion of a four months' training course these men will be commissioned ensigns in the Naval Reserve. During the training period Midshipmen are paid $65 a month. As ensigns with commissions the pay will be approximately $143 a month with an additional allowance of $40 a month if they are married.

All applicants for the U. S. Naval Reserve must be native-born citizens of the United States with the exception of candidates for Class V-5 who must have been United States citizens for a period of at least ten years.

Detailed information with regard to enlistment in any class of the U. S. Naval Reserve may be secured by writing to or calling at your nearest regional Navy Recruiting Station.
