How About Mopping Up?

Cleanup day this spring will have more than the usual importance. A glance about in the bleakness after winter shows much to do in the town and country around. Gradually tent and trailer house are disappearing but in many cases the campers are leaving much litter behind. Along roadsides is a lot of rubbish that is displeasing to the eyes of permanent citizens. Papers, cardboard boxes, tin cans and trash have been spilled in many places, unavoidable perhaps under the circumstances, but the community as a whole has an interest in clearing streets, lots and roadsides of this debris.

The city government and local organizations should lead the movement in town and it is possible that the county should look after the roadsides. At any event, everyone should become cleanup conscious. We can first look after our own backyards and then complain to our neighbors, and then to health, municipal and county authorities. Pride in our community surroundings may have to be supported by vigilance, work and even indignation, and this is the month to think of the job.

More Houses! More Houses!

Eleven people called at the local real estate and newspaper office Tuesday for houses to rent. The average daily is five or six. These people are permanent employes at the ordnance depot and want more comfortable living quarters than tent houses, trailer houses or camps. It is estimated that at least 50 two or three-room apartments or three or four-room houses could be rented at reasonable prices.

The only thing in sight now is the beginning of construction of five houses with assurance that the builders may build as many as 20 on the lots recently purchased for additional homes. There is also some reconstruction of small court houses and a few apartments. Otherwise the growing demand for houses in the near future is not likely to be met and the increasing number of workers will have to be satisfied during the summer with conditions similar to those of last year.

Tax Payment Date Change Explained

The object of the new law as to payment of property taxes is to change the date for payment to November instead of March when federal and state income taxes are due. This requires the payment of 1941 taxes due under the old law in 1942, as usual, and a payment on 1942 taxes again in November. This may work a temporary hardship on some people but in the end no greater amount of the sum total. Because of the great increase of income tax payers, the adjustment will prove advantageous to the general tax-paying public.

Don't Let Your House Run Down at the Heels

Little things, like dirty fingernails or run down heels, can ruin your personal appearance, yet they take practically no effort or money to repair. Your home requires the same care . . . if you take pride in its appearance.

There are numerous small items around the house that may need repairs or replacement . . . now or very shortly. Minor things, such as cracked or broken railings, worn and uneven boards, etc., that seem unimportant, should be repaired without delay, for appearance, safety, and economy.

A home worn in a few places is apt to look shoddy, cause painful or serious injuries from falls, and attract a large repair bill when the minor defects become major items for repair. The cost of fixing minor defects is negligible, if it is done in time.

Call and let us give you more information or an estimate on small repair jobs. Or, better still, let us come and look them over.

STANFIELD NEWS

By Mrs. Rose Hedrick

John Heckman returned last Saturday from a winter's visit at his native home town, Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, the guest of his brother and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. George Attebury spent the week end at Salem, as the guests of their son Eddie and wife, and Jeananne.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lee and son Paul of La Grande were visitors at the Gilbert Smith home Sunday. They will return here and care for turkeys for Mr. Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Corey and children have bought the Moys cottage and moved into the same.

Mrs. Bernice Taylor will be the clerk at the postoffice succeeding Miss Lenna Waid who resigned on March 1, so that she may be at home with her aged mother.

Mrs. Orville Kessler will fill the clerk's place at the Cooperative Creamery made vacant by Virginia Wells.

Edna Areta, daughter of Mrs. Travis McCullough arrived last week from Willits, Cal., to care for her mother.

Mrs. Cynthia Carlton who has been visiting at the L. E. Hughes home for two weeks has gone to her son's home in California.

The grade school basketball team brought home a much prized trophy from Arlington last Saturday. Their coach, Garth Clark, is also to be complimented.

Mrs. Leo Clark and Garth Clark were Pendleton visitors Tuesday. Garth took the trophy to Pendleton to have the boys' names engraved thereon.

Miss Lois Messenger, Miss Billie Gabriel and Miss Alice Hedrick attended the Christian Endeavor rally in Pendleton last Friday night.

Mrs. Myrtle Carter was pleased to have fourteen ladies present for her second lesson on weight control. Mrs. Fisk will give the lesson on household repairs on March 27.

About thirty-five guests attended the shower given February 27 honoring Miss Eleanor Sires who will become the bride of Jack Samuelson of Seattle on March 15. Miss Esther Fredrickson and Billy Penney with their violins and Phyllis Sires as accompanist furnished musical numbers. Miss Vivian Leightzell gave a reading, "The wedding". A love story game was then played. The committee served coffee, tea and cakes.

INDEPENDENT BAPTIST MISSION

E. M. Ayers, Pastor

Sunday, 3:00 p. m., worship, with sermon by the pastor.

The Independent Baptist Mission was organized at La Grande, Ore., and received into the Middle Oregon Baptist Association in 1941. The organization has been transferred to Hermiston where it continues to function as an old-fashioned Missionary Baptist church.

You are welcome to our services at our cabin two blocks east of the school.

IT'S THE STORM THAT TESTS A SHIP!

Almost any ship can sail in a calm sea. It takes a storm to test the timbers and crew.

This thought has been an inspiration for the entire Pacific Power & Light organization during the past 32 years . . . as it fought hundreds of sleet, snow, wind and lightning storms; floods, fires and all the other dangers to a power company.

OUR CREW IS SIGNED UP
100%

We are proud to announce that all 756 men and women in the Pacific Power & Light organization are now setting aside a generous part of their monthly income for the purchase of United States defense bonds.

Every civilian, no matter how vital his job, must do more than work harder. War costs money! That is why every man and woman on the PP&L staff has signed up to contribute generously to the national war chest.

But today every American is facing the worst storm of all time—TOTAL WAR.

Many of Pacific Power & Light's technicians are serving with the army and navy. The remainder of the smooth-working and efficient team are hard at work rushing additional power to scores of war industries . . . building new lines to scattered airfields, army and navy establishments, shipyards, and food processing plants.

Because of their experience in meeting emergencies, PP&L employees have been called on to take a leading part in civilian defense activities. And, of course, the company must continue to cope with regular operating troubles.

But come what may, the entire PP&L organization—experienced and trained after 32 years of meeting crisis after crisis—will keep on giving you, and 74,000 other users of its cheap electricity, the highest quality service consistent with "all out" war production.
