It Blows Hot and Cold for Hitler's Hordes

South African troops of the British imperial forces make a close examination (left) of a large German Mark 4 tank captured in the desert. Of especial interest is the huge short-barreled cannon mounted in the side of the tank. By way of contrast, picture at right gives some idea of the intense cold of the Russian-German battlefield. Red army machine gunners were photographed in the firing line as they slowly pressed the German hordes back.

S. S. TAKE TRIP TO PENDLETON

Saturday, February 28, the Senior Service Scouts of Hermiston Troop No. 2 went to Pendleton and made a tour of the St. Anthony's hospital as part of the work on their home nursing badge. They made the acquaintance of the hospital's two skeletons and inspected the main hospital and nurses home.

The Sister who led the group on the inspection tour explained how and when a girl could enter nurses training. She must have four years of high school which consists of the following subjects: four years of English, one year of chemistry and one year of some branch of mathematics, preferably algebra. Biology, general science, Latin, and home economics are recommended subjects. The girls who went had a delightful time and learned many new and useful things.

A few weeks ago the Senior Service Scouts elected their officers for the following year. They are as follows: president, Doris Follett; vice president, Leona Laird; secretary-treasurer, Lauralie Saylor; song leader, Peggy Todd; and scribe, Donna Jean Myers.

The girls are completing registration at National Headquarters for the year 1942. February was the first birthday of the Girl Scout Troops of Hermiston. They were organized a year ago and have since grown so large that in November the troop was split. The older girls were organized into the Senior Girl Scout troop and are under the leadership of Miss Constance Luhrs. The rest of the troop is known as the Intermediate troop whose leader is Miss Helen Thomas.

WORK ON CUTOFF DEPENDS ON OIL

Completion of the surfacing work on the Boardman-Stanfield cut-off this summer will depend greatly on the supply of oil needed for surfacing, according to a recent announcement of Resident Engineer Chandler, state highway department. The surfacing contractor is ready to begin work and will soon be placing crushed rock on the new highway.

On the eastern end of the cutoff the grading contractor still has three or four months work to do, however, the main worry is the oil supply. The highway is being built as a military highway with eight foot shoulders on each side. When completed it will be of service to the Umatilla ordnance depot as well as to general traffic.

In accordance therewith our Sunday morning topic will be "What Price Alcohol?" We are convinced that the liquor business is a paying business. Every one pays and in the end no one receives. Will our thirst for alcohol cost us the war?

It is our responsibility to be willing at every moment to relinquish what seems to us to be good when God has some greater good for us if we not cramp His style. We need to let go our narrow selves which shut out the divine self. How can we do this? What does it profit us? This sermon gives the answer. 7:00 P. M., M. Y. F. Epworth League.

COPPOCK URGES USE OF RATINGS

Action to assist farmers who are cooperating in the machinery repair program has been announced by the War Production Board, A. R. Coppock, chairman of the county U. S. D. A. War Board, has disclosed. Preference rating order P-100 has been amended to extend priority assistance for the repair of agricultural machinery.

The farmer who repairs his own equipment, or the local repairman or blacksmith who does it for him, may now apply an A-10 priority rating to certain welding rods, bar iron, nuts, bolts, rivets or other materials that cannot be obtained without a priority rating and is used for repairing farm machinery.

To apply the preference rating for deliveries of materials, a farmer or repairman simply copies and signs the following statement on the original and all copies of his purchase order:

"Materials for maintenance, repair, or operating supplies, rating A-10, under preference rating order No. P-100, with the terms of which I am familiar."

Signature. When an order for repair materials bearing this preference rating is placed with a dealer or supplier, the supplier may in turn pass this rating on to the manufacturer or jobber to obtain the materials or replace his stock.

Chairman Coppock, pointed out that while there is no guarantee that an A-10 rating will be sufficient to obtain prompt delivery of all of the types of repair supplies containing scarce materials, the order will cover most of the repair needs, and will be of real benefit to the farm machinery repair program.

SPRING SPORTS TO BE POPULAR HERE

Judging by the number of boys turning out for spring sports at the local high school, baseball, track and tennis, are becoming extremely popular. At the first sign of spring, baseballs and tennis rackets came into view and this week runners could be seen jogging around the football field.

To date only four baseball games have been lined up but it is hoped to add several more soon.
