CENTRAL CHURCH OF CHRIST

C. Warner, Pastor
Our Pre-Easter revival is in its first week. The interest from the very beginning has been good. The meetings will continue each night of the week until Easter Sunday, except Saturday night. The meetings begin at eight o'clock.

The evangelist's sermon for Sunday morning will be "With Christ", and Sunday evening, "Somebody Lied—Dead Men Do Tell Tales".

The U'Rens are leading the congregation in a wonderful way each evening as they sing the old time Gospel songs. Their special talent with the mandolin and their singing is such that the entire community should have a part in it.

Friday night of each week is Family Night. The father with the youngest baby, and the largest family present will receive a special remembrance that they will prize the balance of their life.

Next week Evangelist Pointer will touch upon each night, two or three of the some eighty prophecies being fulfilled today that clearly shows that the end of this age is near.

EGG PRICE MATTER EXPLAINED BY NOEL BENNION OF O.S.C.

By Gene Lear
Recently there have been a number of complaints in this district on the price producers have been receiving for their eggs. Some information which may help to clarify this egg price situation has been recently given by Noel Bennion, extension poultryman, Oregon State college.

Feed costs are high and there has been the usual seasonal decline in the price of eggs. However, eggs are still about 50% higher than they were a year ago and feed is from 35 to 40% higher. The feed-egg ratio is slightly more favorable than it was a year ago, and above the ten year average.

The Secretary of Agriculture, C. R. Wickard, and state and local poultry leaders have advised against expansion in the poultry industry by going into debt buying or building new equipment. It has been stated on many occasions that adequate facilities are used efficiently.

State and federal reports go to show that since the first of the year prices of eggs in Oregon have been from 10 to 15% higher than at this time last year.

Present Egg Parity Prices

The federal government has stated that they would support the price of eggs at 85% of parity until June 30, 1943. Under the Steagall Amendment the secretary of agriculture has the authority to raise, lower or extend this price support.

At the present time the seasonal adjusted parity price on eggs is 25.91 cents per dozen. This parity, of course, is based on the national average.

Eighty-five per cent of 25.91 would be 22.02 cents per dozen. It can be readily determined from this that the price producers are receiving in general at least 85 per cent of parity. It should be kept in mind that parity price on eggs will vary throughout the year depending on the price of commodities that farmers have to buy and the seasonal variations in the price of eggs. While the present parity on eggs is 25.91 cents per dozen, in November it may be as high as 36 cents, or even more, per dozen.

At the present time the number of laying hens in the United States is 12 per cent higher compared with last year. For the United States the total egg output for last month was 17 per cent higher than a year ago. Poultry producers have indicated they expect to raise 12 per cent more chicks this year than last. These figures indicate the 1942 goal will be more than surpassed, which is a very desirable condition.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics states that the feed-egg ratio is expected to continue favorable for egg production although it may not be quite as favorable for this year as a whole as it was for 1941.

11:00 A. M., morning worship with sermon by the pastor: "Our Enemies Make Us." Many people discover that their health, their environment, lack of talent, mental, physical or emotional handicaps, are their greatest enemies. Some have also discovered that they can transform apparent failures into brilliant successes and change their greatest weaknesses into their greatest strength through overcompensation. This sermon will tell how you, too, may convert your weakness into strength.

B.Y.P.U. meets at 7 o'clock with Fern Follett leading the discussion. At our evening worship service at 8 o'clock the text will be "Jesus Wept", John 11:35. This shortest verse of the Bible is often passed over lightly. When we pause to think of the cause of the Master's weeping we are filled with wonder at the love of God.
