QUOTA REFERENDUM MAY 2 HELD VITAL TO WHEAT GROWERS

Informing every eligible wheat grower in Oregon of the importance of casting his ballot in the second wheat marketing quota referendum set for May 2 is the goal of county and community AAA committeemen now holding meetings in 30 counties of the state.

Oregon wheat growers led the nation in approving quotas by a 95.5 per cent favorable vote last year. The goal this year is a 100 per cent turnout of every eligible voter, according to Robert B. Taylor of Adams, chairman of the state AAA committee.

While marketing quotas are important from the standpoint of assuring the wheat grower of a fair return for his crop, this aspect is far overshadowed by the importance of quotas to the entire war effort, Taylor believes. He listed seven ways in which quotas will help the wheat farmer do his job properly in wartime and make his maximum patriotic contribution:

1. Quotas provide for an organization of supplies so transportation systems will not be clogged.
 2. They make possible more efficient use of storage facilities, now so valuable to the food program.
 3. They aid in directing production into the crops where it is most needed, rather than wasting it on overproduction of a crop of which there are now big reserves.
 4. They help maintain a strong wheat structure for production of wheat as it is needed and at a fair price.
 5. They help maintain soil resources for continuing production of wheat.
 6. They help alleviate the situation created by a virtual lack of export outlets.
 7. They help divide equally the responsibility for adjustment among all wheat farmers, cooperatively and democratically.
- With a billion and a half bushel wheat supply in sight after the 1942 harvest, as against maximum 1943 needs for 650 million bushels, the U. S. has ample reserves of wheat to meet any emergency created by the war in the next several years, Taylor pointed out. Quotas provide a fair and equitable way of maintaining this big reserve without injuring the wheat industry, he said.

BOARDMAN NEWS

By Elaine Fisher
The Community church was filled to capacity at the Easter services Sunday morning. The church itself had been beautified by the removal of the large stove and the moulding, and the application of fresh kalsomine. The crowning glory is the new drapes around the choir loft. The spring flowers present added their part to a lovely service. The church service was followed by Sunday School and an Easter program which was superintended by Mrs. John Partlow.

Mrs. Lee Sullivan and children Gale and Patty of Portland visited friends here over Easter.

The Pattees and Utheys from Umatilla were at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Olsen for Easter.

The sophomores entertained the student body faculty and what soldiers cared to attend at a party in the gym Friday evening.

Mrs. Maud Kobow is directing a musical which is to be given Friday evening by the upper grades and high school choruses in the school auditorium.

The Senior Frolic is to be held in the gym Friday evening, April 24th. The "Ranch Aces" from Pendleton are to furnish the music.

Elaine Fisher is confined to her home with the mumps.

Mrs. Smith and son of Cheyenne are visiting at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Nels Kristensen.

The ladies of the east end will hold a get-together dinner at the home of Mrs. Hugg Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morrison drove to Arlington for Easter.

Mrs. Grace Forbes has recovered from a severe case of flu which confined her to her bed for some time.

E. Deulan and daughters are moving into the Fortier place.

Jack Reid's mother spent the Easter holiday with him here. He is employed on the new highway.

The Junior Endeavor which is held at the church every Monday evening is flourishing. Some of the children walk in three and four miles to attend.

"The message must go through"

Thirty-nine thousand men and women of this company are behind your telephone service, making connections, keeping your service in order, working out ways to meet telephone needs.

They are a part of the great army of telephone workers in America who are out to help win this war. They have been tested time and again, in fire, flood and storm. Their call to action has been the tradition that says, "The Message Must Go Through."

They'll do their level best, under wartime conditions, to give you the finest service possible.
