NEW OPENING IN NAVY SCHOOL

Young men 17 years of age or over, who have a fair mathematical background and mechanical or radio aptitude, are eligible for enlistment in RADAR, the Navy's designation for the new division devoted to the operation and maintenance of highly technical secret devices for aircraft location and submarine detection. Those interested in this or any general branch of the Navy are asked to contact the Navy Recruiting Officer, 250 Post Office Building, Pendleton, Oregon.

LOANS MADE FOR CROP EXPENSES

Loans of cash to meet the usual harvesting expenses such as gas, oil, machinery repairs, binder twine, etc., may be obtained by eligible farmers from the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan section of the Farm Credit Administration. This was pointed out today by Field Supervisor C. A. Riley. "Such loans are of special interest to farmers whose machinery is in need of repair," said Mr. Riley. "The abnormal scarcity of materials and the various priority regulations make it extremely important for farmers to plan well ahead to meet their requirements if they want to be certain of getting needed parts. It is by no means too early, therefore, to make the necessary arrangements if credit is needed."

Loans for the purpose of summer fallowing, as well as for the production or purchase of feed are also available to farmers who can qualify for this type of short-term emergency credit. Mr. Riley's headquarters is La Grande, Oregon, where full information may be obtained and where applications may be filed. Information and application forms may also be obtained at the county agent's office, Pendleton, Oregon, assistant county agent's office at Milton, and the assistant county agent's office in Hermiston.

HOW TO BE HAPPY AND SAVE SUGAR TOLD BY LEADER

People can't get as much sugar as they would like. From a health standpoint they don't need as much as they normally get—in fact, just about half that amount. The logical thing to do, therefore, is find ways of making the sugar allowance give a maximum of personal satisfaction. This is the way Lucy A. Case, extension specialist in foods and nutrition at O. S. C., sizes up the present sugar situation. It's no use to worry about exactly how much sugar is in the country, because with sugar now considered a weapon of war—as a source of alcohol needed in explosives—the government is sure to maintain a margin of safety to avoid such a critical shortage as has occurred with rubber, she said. The sugar allowance provided, aside from that especially earmarked for canning, can probably be used to give most satisfaction in cooking and baking. Even there, however, other things can be used to substitute for it. Corn syrup and honey may be used in many kinds of cooked and baked foods, or even to sweeten breakfast cereals. The use of more dried fruits is a sugar-conserving measure, as many of them are almost sweet enough without additional sugar. Raisins or dried prunes added to certain dishes will provide sweetening as well as fruit. Corn, carrots, and sweet potatoes are rich in their own sugar, and will aid in providing a sweet taste to meals. Such desserts as custards, bread puddings, and others made with a large proportion of milk and eggs need much less sugar than many other desserts. Some homemakers are economizing on sugar by ending the meal with a fruit salad or fresh fruit, instead of with a dessert requiring more sugar. In cake making, sugar may be saved by omitting a frosting, or by using a filling of a fruit mixture or something else that does not take ordinary sugar. Finally, if iced drinks are used, they may be sweetened with a thin syrup much more economically than with plain sugar.

CARD OF THANKS

May we take this opportunity to thank our neighbors and friends for the kindness and sympathy shown during the recent illness and death of our beloved wife and mother. We especially thank those who assisted with the funeral arrangements and those who presented floral offerings. These acts of kindness are greatly appreciated.

KERWIN ENLISTS WITH MARINES

Walter D. Kerwin, husband of Mrs. Gertrude E. Kerwin of Hermiston, enlisted Thursday in the U. S. marine corps reserve for guard duty at naval shore establishments within the continental limits of the United States through the marine corps recruiting station at Walla Walla.

This duty in the marines is available to men between the ages of 31 and 50, inclusive, who are in good enough physical shape to meet reduced physical requirements and have the spunk and spirit required for marine service. Men enlisted for guard duty will relieve younger marines qualified for combat duty and will be assigned, wherever possible, to duty at naval bases near their homes, after completing a seven weeks' conditioning course of training at the marine corps base at San Diego, California. Married men may enlist with the consent of their wives and dependents.

Navy School at G.E.

Just one evidence of the cooperation between the armed services and our vast industrial army—a school for submarine electricians conducted at one General Electric factory.

1. Electricity is vital to the running of every submarine. It does an amazing variety of important jobs, from turning the propeller to cooking the coffee.

2. For that reason, there must be well-trained electricians on every underwater craft. At this school, Navy electricians attend classes taught by G-E engineers.

3. and go out into the shops where they watch workmen construct the same kind of electric equipment that will some day be put in their charge.

4. This is but one proof of the thorough training which the U.S. Navy gives its men, so that the vital equipment of war will always be ready for action.

General Electric believes that its first duty as a good citizen is to be a good soldier.
