

MORROW COUNTY POMONA HELD AT BOARDMAN

Mary Lundell, Reporter
Morrow County Pomona Grange was guest of Greenfield Grange at Boardman on Saturday, October 3. Reports and discussions on fire laws, dairy situation, and synthetic rubber problem, filled the business hours preceding the bounteous noon meal served by the ladies of the Home Economics club.

Although war conditions effect to some extent the traveling facilities of farm folk, the subordinate reports show that an average membership prevails over the county.

During the lecture hour the following program was presented by the lecturer, Mrs. E. C. Heliker: song, "Smile, Smile"; article: Fire Prevention Week; Mary Lindsay; vocal duets, "Any Bonds" and "Golden Tomorrow"; Baker girls; original reading, "A Cheerful Visitor"; Alda Troedson; talk, "Scrap Metal Salvage"; Henry Baker; Scotch song, "We'd Better Bide a Wee"; Mrs. McFarland; talk, Generalities; Mr. Lechner, Future Farmer Instructor at Boardman; article, "Farmers Depend on Congress"; Mary Lundell; recitation, "Susie Entertains a Visitor"; Dot Halverson; song, "God Bless America".

A discussion on the filling of separate income taxes for husbands and wives, resulted in the appointment of the following committee to confer with the State Grange Executive committee and lead in study of the existing law in subordinate granges, and a report to be made at the next Pomona: Marjorie Baker, Willows, chairman; Henry Baker, Rhea Creek; Orville Cutsforth, Lexington; Minnie McFarland, Greenfield.

As the officer, Pomona, elected a year ago, had not qualified to fill the station, the office was declared vacant. A unanimous ballot named Mary Lindsay to fill the vacancy. Mrs. Lindsay will serve until election of officers in November, 1943.

Hereafter, and for the duration only, Morrow County Pomona will hold but two meetings a year, one to be the first Saturday in May, and the other the first Saturday in November. Due to the rationing of tires and gasoline, the membership felt that the elimination of two meetings would assist in getting a better attendance.

The next Pomona will meet at Rhea Creek in May, the first Saturday, 1943. The session will convene at 10 a. m., dinner at noon, continuation of business till 3:30 at which time the lecture hour will be given. Initiation in the degree of Pomona will be featured as a part of the business session. A light lunch in the evening will complete the meeting. No night session will be held. It is hoped that this new form of business will meet with the approval of members throughout the county and assure good Pomona attendance.

BULLDOGS WIN OVER WAITSBURG

(From The Bulldog)

The Hermiston high school Bulldogs won their second start of the season Friday by trouncing a heavier Waitsburg eleven on their own field. The Bulldogs scored early in the contest but failed to convert, making it 6-0 for Hermiston. These were the only points scored during the game although there were several anxious moments for Hermiston supporters who saw the Washington lads drive to the Hermiston six inch line. Only the half time whistle prevented a score.

The Bulldogs, kicking off at the starting shot, lost the ball to Waitsburg who took it and ran it back to the 35 yard line. They made two rapid first downs before the Bulldogs regained the pigskin. Tiller, left half, took it from there and soon carried it over the goal line for the only score of the game. He was aided by beautiful blocking by Kenny Elwood, right guard. The two teams battled it out on even terms with the Waitsburg boys threatening in the first half and the Bulldogs staging a comeback in the last half.

KERSBERGENS DINNER HOSTS

(From The Bulldog)

Mr. and Mrs. Kersbergen were host and hostess to a banquet for the faculty, trustees and their wives of Hermiston union high school, district number nine, and grade school, district number fourteen.

The banquet was prepared by the Rebekahs in their usual efficient manner Thursday night, October 7. The delicious dinner of roast turkey with dressing, potatoes, gravy, molded vegetable salad, hot rolls, cranberry jelly, ice cream and wafers was served in the lower corridor of the high school building by several high school girls.

The table decorations of purple dahlias and marigolds carried out the high school colors of purple and gold. Autumn leaves and grapes also graced the center of the tables.

It was held as a "get acquainted meeting" for the teachers and school board members and their wives.

Mohair Restrictions Off
The State USDA War Board reports that mohair has been released completely from restrictions of the WPB Wool Conservation order, and is now available for unrestricted civilian use. With the Army taking the bulk of the domestic wool clip, this new action is expected to result in increased use of mohair for civilian goods.

Greatest Farm Output
Latest crop report shows U. S. farm production this year will be 35 per cent above 1923-32 average, and 12 per cent above previous highest year, 1937. Goals exceeded for all crops except two, potatoes and peanuts.

Record Meat Production
The Food Requirements Committee reports that 1942 meat production will exceed 24 billion pounds, by far the greatest output on record. But even this huge amount will fall three billion pounds short of providing enough meat for the needs of the armed forces, lend-lease, and normal domestic consumption.

Seed Starts For Britain
Shipment of Oregon ryegrass, to fill Great Britain's request for seed to boost her livestock production, started this week, the state AAA office reports. First lend-lease seed came from Lane county. Meanwhile, Oregon cover crop seed continues to move to the southern states, with over 500 carloads shipped.

Wheat Losses Paid
Despite the bumper crops throughout the state, 165 Oregon growers have collected on their 1942 wheat crop insurance policies so far, the state AAA office reports. Indemnities paid to date total 18,000 bushels. At the same time, growers are reminded that September 30 is the final date for insuring 1943 winter wheat.

WPB Restricts Building
Moving to further conserve materials, the War Production Board has placed a $200 limit on new residential construction permitted without prior WPB approval. Permitted farm construction, other than dwellings, remains at $1,000. County U. S. D. A. War Board can give information on applying for construction in excess of those limits.

OREGON RANKS FOURTH STATE IN TURKEY RAISING

Oregon now ranks fourth among all the states in the numbers of turkeys produced. In attaining this rank Oregon turkey growers increased their output approximately 175 per cent between 1930 and 1940, reaching a total production of 1,677,851 turkeys at the time of the 1940 census. Expressed in dollars and cents, the turkey industry now accounts for from 3 to 4 per cent of the cash farm income in Oregon.

As a service to those already in, or those contemplating entering the turkey industry, the extension service at O.S.C. has issued a bulletin entitled "Brooding and Rearing Turkeys", intended to serve as a handy guide book of most practical methods in all steps in the turkey enterprise from selecting stock to final marketing.

Most of the turkeys in Oregon are raised by commercial operators in large flocks, points out Noel L. Benion, extension poultryman, who is author of the bulletin. While some turkeys are produced in every county, the largest output comes from the Willamette valley, from Douglas county in southern Oregon, and from Umatilla and Deschutes counties in eastern Oregon. While the expansion has been rapid in recent years, it has been carried out on a sound economic basis, said Benion.

The illustrated bulletin discusses obtaining points, brooding operations, including equipment and management, range management, feeding methods, disease prevention, and marketing. A tabulated feeding schedule is included which gives in concise form what kind of mash, grain, and drink to provide through the various stages of development from hatching to marketing.
