RULES LISTED FOR TIRE DISPOSAL

Persons living in communities not served by the Railway Express agency may dispose of their passenger car tires in excess of five for each car through their regular truck lines. It has been announced by the state OPA office.

Those persons may request the driver of the truck lines regularly serving their areas to obtain forms for the number of tires they wish to dispose of, from the nearest office of the Railway Express agency which the truck line reaches. The Railway Express Agency will furnish the driver the forms which must be filled out by the vendor. The truck line will then carry the tires to the Railway Express, for which it will be remunerated, although there will be no cost to the seller; will take the tires to the Railway Express agency and the latter will mail back the receipt to the seller.

Persons in remote areas may also parcel post their tires to the nearest Railway Express agency, but by using the regular trucking services, they will save themselves that cost.

Farm WAR NEWS

Milk Output Stays High
No good dairy cows are going to the butcher, the state USDA War Board reports, after a thorough probe of the situation. Heavier culling is indicated by an increase in slaughter of poorer dairy type animals, but the good cows from the large herds that are being reduced because of help shortage are going into smaller herds.

Fiber Flax Rated Vital
Oregon fiber flax is an important war material, and the army and navy needs every pound produced, M. Clifford Townsend, head of the Agricultural Conservation and Adjustment Administration, said after a visit last week to two Willamette Valley co-op flax plants. He praised growers for efforts to increase production and capacity of processing plants.

1943 Goals Due Soon

be established shortly after announcement of state and national goals around December 1, the county USDA War Board reports. The board reminded that hog and cover crop seed goals have already been announced, and emphasized that all of the livestock, dairy and poultry products that county farmers can produce will be needed in 1943.

YOUR ELECTRIC SERVANT

To maintain a soldier for a year requires the wool from 23 sheep. To raise that much wool entails a lot of care and time. But when the wool is fully grown, a skilled worker can shear it off the backs of 23 sheep in a little over an hour with the aid of only a penny's worth of PP&L's cheap electricity.

And when the wool gets to the mill, another penny's worth of PP&L's electric power operates the giant looms while they weave a complete uniform or blanket. Nearly 90% of America's wool production is going to war...and cheap electricity is speeding the job all along the way.

This is not an unusual example. In practically every phase of the Pacific Northwest's war effort cheap and dependable PP&L electricity is busily at work... in shipyards and airfields, on 12,500 farms, in hundreds of war factories, in food processing plants and army camps.

The same low-cost electricity that makes home life comfortable for you is making trouble for the Axis!
