

Season's Greetings From Our Neighboring C

IT is not only now, at Christmas time, when we appreciate your patronage. We appreciate it all year 'round, but now, in the last short days of 1942, is the very best time to tell you about it, and to wish you all a very Merry Christmas.

To all our old friends and acquaintances, and also to the many fine new ones we have made during 1942, we send sincere Christmas greetings and the wish that the holidays will be as happy as possible.

STANFIELD

N. D. Bard, veteran railroad employee of Stanfield, will take the helm as Mayor of Stanfield after the first of the year. He replaces Frank Sloan who refused to be a candidate for re-election because of ill health. In these two gentlemen Stanfield has had and will have able leadership. Mrs. Nettie Sloan continues her duties as recorder. New councilmen are F. A. Baker, E. V. Gabriel, J. W. Heckman, John H. Kruse, M. Refvem and Cap Behme.

The city of Stanfield has gone all-out to help in the housing of additional workers brought to this territory by the construction of the Umatilla ordinance depot. Residents and city officials have co-operated wholeheartedly to take care of as many families as possible and should be complimented for their efforts. Business firms have enlarged their floor space and their stocks to supply the necessary articles for the old residents as well as the many new.

Just what the future holds, no one would be willing to wager but of this everyone is sure, Stanfield will cooperate in every way possible to aid the war effort. During this Christmas season, the merchants extend their best wishes and hope that everyone has a bright and cheery Merry Christmas.

PRICE SUPPORTS SEEN AS AID TO BIG FARM OUTPUT

Announcement of farm price supports and related policies will enable producers to plan their production and marketing operations better to meet the goals being set for 1943, says L. R. Breithaupt, extension agricultural economist, in the latest issue of the Agricultural Situation and Outlook report just published at Oregon State college.

These guaranteed prices will not assure farmers of an adequate supply of labor, new machinery, or fertilizer, or a long list of other materials that are needed, but this more definite price outlook will help materially to encourage farmers to try to meet increased requirements for food, Breithaupt points out in the circular.

The price policy as announced is designed to give maximum price assistance to the production program, according to the announcement made by the U. S. department of agriculture. The announcement added that, while the department recognizes that prices influence production, it "cannot assure a set price to every farmer for every class or grade of a given commodity, for every day throughout a marketing season."

Most of the price support program has been announced in fairly definite terms in relation to parity or definite prices in money. The new circular lists those for hogs, eggs, butter, cheese, potatoes, dry and evaporated milk, turkeys, chickens, wheat, feed grains, and dry peas. About February 1 it is planned to announce price supports for dried fruits, including apples and prunes, and for certain vegetables for processing, including snap beans and peas. Purchase or support prices for other special crops will be announced as needed.

Latest report on farm price levels, purchasing value, and farm costs are also included in the new circular, which may be obtained free at any county extension office.

Christmas Cheer to All

'T WAS but yesterday that all was commonplace. But now, what a change! 'Tis the Christmas spirit of 1942!

Carried away on this magic carpet of Yuletide, we enter every home to say Merry Christmas to our friends.

GUDGEL'S Food Store

It's an old-fashioned greeting, hallowed by centuries of use, but we know of no other greeting to take its place, so in 1942, as in other years, we simply say to you, our friends—MERRY CHRISTMAS!
