Help Another War Effort

The Victory Service League has consented to lend its efforts to another worthy War Effort. American citizens have been asked to gather all athletic equipment possible for members of the armed forces. Due to the shortage of this type of material, the public has been asked to lend its support. Baseball bats, balls, mitts, basketballs, ping pong equipment, boxing gloves or any other articles that can be used for recreation are needed. Please leave your donations at The Herald office where proper disbursement will be made. Let's all work together in this another War Effort.

Every county farmer or farm worker caring for 16 "war units" in livestock or essential crops is more important to the nation's war effort on the farm than in war industries or the armed forces, announces Umatilla County USDA War Board chairman, in commenting on new deferment instructions received by local selective service boards. Food, more than ever, is becoming a vital war weapon as far flung battlelines of America and her allies must be manned and fed, he added.
Local draft boards are now making determinations as to whether a farmer or farm worker is essential by applying war-nit ratings to his livestock and crop production, Mr. Coppock explained.
All farm livestock except draft animals has a war rating, and most basic feed and food crops apply toward war units. One milk cow is rated as one war unit, as are 12 farm beef animals, 15 range beef animals, 20 hogs, 75 hens, 45 range sheep, 30 sheep in farm flocks and 40 turkeys. Crop ratings include 15 acres of wheat, oats, rye, barley, hay or cover crop seeds; 2 acres of potatoes; one acre of fruit trees; one acre of canning vegetables; or .7 of an acre of small fruits and berries.
The 16-war-unit standard is used as a guide and is not a rigid yardstick, Mr. Coppock said. Those whose operations do not measure up to the 16 units will be given opportunity to increase up to an essential farm rating if this is practicable.
The county war board has been requested to advise with the local draft board in making determinations under the war units plan, the chairman said. This work is now going on, and information from farm work sheets to be made out by every farmer during the coming mobilization for 1943 will be used to complete the job, as well as to assist farmers in bringing their operations up to the 16-unit standard.
The new selective service regulations also provide that any person given a deferred classification as essential to food production may not leave the farm for other work or to enter the armed forces without permission from his local draft board.
