Success Factors For Livestock

Practices Now Have Proven Their Value

By P. E. JOHNSTON
(Department of Agriculture Economics, University of Illinois College of Agriculture.)

Here are some 36 "success" factors by means of which farmers can gear up their livestock production for wartime needs.

All the practices have proved their worth in farm account records kept by farmers in co-operation with this college.

BREEDING: (1) Flush at breeding time, (2) reduce feed of sows at weaning time and (3) use proper type breeding stock and select individuals (mark litters and select from best and sort gilts from feeding herd before they get too fat for proper use).

FEEDING: (1) Feed proper rations to sows during gestation period, (2) provide plenty of pasture, (3) put sows and pigs on self feeder, (4) feed balanced rations to pigs and (5) provide plenty of fresh water.

Most Important.

SANITATION: (Eighteen of 24 farmers interviewed stated that sanitation was most important factor of all.) (1) Clean houses, (2) clean sows and (3) clean pastures.

MARKETING: (1) Sell spring and fall pigs when prices are normally highest (August - September and March-April) and (2) deviate from normal if the outlook shows clearly that an abnormal situation prevails at the time.

TIMELINESS: To conserve labor and to increase the production of pork, (1) breed sows to farrow at desired time, (2) have equipment ready and guard against rapid changes in temperature, (3) castrate before pigs are four weeks of age, (4) vaccinate at five to six weeks, (5) wean at eight weeks and (6) finish at six months of age, the usual time period.

Farm Hazards

Strangely, agriculture is the most hazardous American industry, with the farm home contributing largely to this amazing total of accidents. Here are some safety suggestions:

- Sharp-edged tools be kept away from play places.
- Stairways with more than three steps be equipped with hand-rails.
- Free use of both hands not to be sacrificed because of heavy load to carry.
- And stairways be kept clear of toys, tools, and boxes. The annual cost of farm and rural fires is $200,000,000. Then, too, besides this property damage, 3,500 lives are lost in these fires.
- To combat this menace: Every open fireplace be equipped with a screen.
- Kettles, pails, and tubs of hot liquids be kept off the floor.
- House dry cleaning be done out-of-doors.
- Matches be kept away from children.
- And saucepan handles be kept away from the edges of stoves and tables.
- Cuts, bruises, and infections should never be regarded as minor, as people have died as a result of a scratch becoming infected.

Lamb Fattening Tests

In an effort to help sheepmen find ways to fatten lambs by adding protein to rations, the Cornell university agricultural experiment station tested seven "protein supplements" on lambs. Each lamb received, in addition to the particular protein-rich feed tested, a standard ration of shelled corn, corn silage, ground limestone and salt.

The lambs fed linseed meal in the ration had better appetites than did those fed the other supplements, which included soybean oil meal, whole soybeans, corn gluten meal, distillers' corn dried grain, brewers' dried grains, and urea.

Averaging the two experiments, the feeding value was slightly the highest for whole soybeans, followed by soybean oil meal, corn gluten meal, and linseed meal.

Wheat Poultry Ration

Bushel for bushel, wheat is the cheapest ingredient in the poultry ration today and more and more poultrymen are feeding wheat. The reason wheat is so cheap at the present time is that the U. S. department of agriculture is putting about 100 million bushels of wheat on the market. This was done to help livestock, dairy, and poultry producers use this wheat for feed and attain Food for Freedom production goals.

MORE AID ASKED FOR 1943 SEASON

More than 60,000 women and children aided in the harvesting of Oregon crops for the 1942 season and yet more will be needed this year, was the consensus of reports from the United States employment service in a two-day session with the state agricultural advisory committee in Salem January 14 and 15.

During last season only 35,548 of the 97,373 farm placements made by the U. S. E. S. were men over 18 the report showed. More than two-thirds of the farm workers placed were from the local communities, while 22 per cent were from Oregon points and 10 per cent from out of the state. With rationing and other travel restrictions, the proportion of out-of-state workers is expected to be further reduced in 1943.

Included in the new program, according to Emory R. Worth, state director of the U. S. E. S., will be: a publicity and advertising campaign; more adequate training supervision and wholesome "on-the-job" surroundings for teen-age boys and girls; better housing facilities for workers; stronger effort to curb drunkenness and other forms of absenteeism; more active solicitation for clubs, church groups and organizations, etc., to share the responsibilities in the battle of food production.

ALL SCHOOL PLAY IS SCHEDULED

(From The Bulldog)

Again the time has rolled around for the annual all-school play and the date has been set for Friday, February 26. Miss Lavina May Lynch, who will direct the play, called a meeting of all those interested in turning out for it and approximately 50 students answered the call.

Miss Lynch has chosen for production the three-act comedy, "Don't Take My Penny" by Anne Coulter Mertens. The cast consists of eight males and nine females. Miss Lynch states, "I really feel bad that everybody who tried out could not have a part because a lot of dramatic talent certainly was portrayed this past week." She also stated that the freshmen and sophomores, as well as the upper classmen, offered some excellent material.

It is interesting to note that seven seniors, eight sophomores, and three juniors walked off with the parts. Nine of the twelve students taking the leading roles were under Miss Lynch's direction in either the junior play or the all-school play last year or the junior play this fall.

The "brother combination" of last year's junior play, "Mistakes at the Blakes," starring Bill Bucknum and Kenny Elwood will be seen again as a couple of pals, Kerry and Greg, in "Don't Take My Penny". Opal Null will play the roll of Penny Pringle, a high school girl who thinks she's going to Hollywood to play the leading part of Dimity West in "Stars in Her Hair." Her friend Joanna will be enacted by Peggy Sommerer. Lyle Tilden will be Caleb, Penny's absorbed father, and Dola Mae Daugherty, as Lydia, will be her scattered-brained mother. Frances Culver will play the role of Mavis, Penny's older sister, and Jack Rodgers, as Mark, enacts the serious-minded brother who wants to own a farm.

Donna Rawson, as Sally, pretends she is a maid and gets herself a job in the Pringle home in hopes of being discovered also for the part of Dimity West in "Stars in Her Hair." Her publicity man is Norman Porter in the person of Cecil Allen, and author of the play is Harrison Day to be enacted by Paul Williams. Gram Pringle, played by Doris Follett, does a lot of untangling situations that the family members seems to get into. Jack Weber, comedy success as Mortimer in "Here Comes Charlie", will play the part of Monsieur Henri, French designer, and he will be assisted by three models, who are Dora Lee Paul, Karen Glenisky and Cleda Nusser. Vance Mattot will take the part of Red, the delivery boy.

The entire action takes place in the living room of the Pringle home. The time is the present, a Saturday in late June. The play is full of youth, charm, funny incidents and good parts for all, and has proved to be one of the most popular high school plays in the country in the past two years.

STUDENT HEADS ARE NOMINATED

(From The Bulldog)

A student body meeting was held in the assembly room during the second period January 14 for the purpose of nominating second semester student body officers.

It was unanimous that Kenny Elwood should continue as president for the second semester.

Besides Lyle Tilden, who served as vice president for the first semester, Maynard Neal was added to the slate.

Frances Culver and Noreen Townsend were nominated for secretary besides Doris Follett, who served during the past semester as secretary.

Besides Mary Sommerer and Carl Longhorn, who were judges last semester, Wanda Dunning and Erwin Null were nominated.

For third yell leader, Velma McKinley, Donna Rawson and Freddie Gimbel were added to the slate. Election will be held Friday of this week.
