To My Friends:

After ten years of business in Hermiston, I will the first of March turn over my responsibilities to Sam and John H. Nye, who will continue to operate the store along similar lines as heretofore. It is with deep regret that I take this step, but feel that I can be of more service, both to myself and my country, in operating a ranch which I have recently purchased in Wallowa county. I am not turning my back on Hermiston but will maintain a home here and divide my time between the two places. Also I will continue to work hard but in a different atmosphere, a change which I feel I deserve and have earned.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank my friends for their patronage and especially their friendship which I have enjoyed during my ten years in business here. I have thoroughly enjoyed my associations and hope that we may continue to remain true friends.

I also wish that you will treat Sam and John the same way you have always treated me. Although several new faces will make their appearance, in Frank Bilderback you will find a link between the old and the new. He will continue in his position as general manager.

Once again, thank you, and all my best wishes.

ROY C. HALE.
