THE VILLAGE GROCER

(With apologies to Longfellow) Contributed

Under the spreading web of rules
The village grocer stands;
His brow is all tied up in knots
His head is in his hands
And there hardly is, from day to day,
A rule he understands.

His hair is thin and getting worse.
His face is grey or blue
His brow is wet with honest sweat;
His set-up is so new!
His customers are dizzy, but
The grocer's dizzy, too.

Day in, day out, from morn till night
You can hear the loud disputes
As women battle for sauerkraut.
Waxed beans and processed fruits,
And the grocer's lot is a loud Bronx cheer
Plus some most discordant hoots.

And children coming home from school
Look in at the open door:
They love to see how their elders act
In a rationed grocery store.
When both sides figure their total points
And dispute the final score.

He goes on Sunday to the church
And sees the people meek—
And marvels that they are the ones
Who fought with him all week;
And he's glad there are no value cards
When the parson starts to speak.

Toiling, computing, sorrowing,
Onward through life he goes:
Each morning sees the OPA
With new rules to disclose.
Each evening sees him totter home
Just a wreck from head to toe.

His business isn't what it was;
And he knows that he is through
With the days he knew what he could sell
And knew the prices, too!
(And when "charts" were things that
a sailer used
When he sailed the ocean blue).

Thanks, thanks to thee, my grocer friend,
For the lessons that you teach!
Into all lives some rain drops fall
With a point value for each
(I'll take a can of that apple juice—
And how many points for peach).
—Conied.

PENTECOSTAL TABERNACLE

Pastor Shelby E. Graves

The Easter services and dinner were well attended last Sunday, and we were favored by Rev. Edmond speaking at the afternoon service and Mrs. Anderson brought forth a splendid message at the evening meeting on the subject of "The Soul".

"Come thou with us and we will do thee good."

HERMISTON BAPTIST CHURCH

Rev. H. V. McGee, Pastor

"The Palm Tree"

Tall and stately, an evergreen top,
In a land on fire from the heat of the sun.
What is its secret? We will discuss this subject with you in our Sunday morning worship service.

"A People Robbed and Spoiled". In the evening service we will examine their plight and ascertain what aid may be given them.

The church with a friendly welcome and a spiritual message.

COLUMBIA NEWS

By Mrs. Bob Woodward

At the Tuesday meeting of the Hermiston Extension unit the following officers were elected to serve for the fall and winter terms: Mrs. Loree Woodward, chairman; Mrs. Ruby Knight, vice chairman; and Mrs. Doris Graves, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Myrtle Carter, home agent, was present and conducted a very interesting and informative demonstration on the conservation of foods for home use by dehydrating and freezing. This was the last meeting of the unit until the fall program opens in October. Mrs. Knight and Mrs. Woodward will represent the local unit at Program Planning Day in Pendleton, May 7.

A picture of H. G. McCulley, local resident, appeared with that of other workers loading ammunition, in an article about the U.O.D. in the last Sunday Oregonian.

Mrs. John Swearingen and daughter Connie spent a few days here this week visiting her mother, Mrs. Grace Foster. Mr. and Mrs. Swearingen, who live near Gresham, were called to Irrigon last week by the illness of his father.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hart and children of Sunnyside spent Easter Sunday here at the home of his sister, Mrs. Henry Garberding.

The I-H Blue Ribbon Pig club met Monday at the Buzzard home with all members present.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Upham drove to Pendleton Sunday to attend Easter church services. They were accompanied by Mrs. Hutchison who visited at the hospital.

companied by Mrs. Hutchison who visited at the hospital.

Roy Grant of Stanfield was a Sunday dinner guest at the Hutchison home.

Mrs. Chester Nolan of Seattle and Mr. and Mrs. George Storey and children of The Dalles and Miss Janet Hodge were Easter Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Hodge.

The Baxter Hutchisons report a recent letter from Elmer James, who is presumably still in North Africa. This is the first word received from him since the holidays.

Along the Diagonal: Mrs. John Graves going to work at the U.O.D. Mr. and Mrs. George Ott and Marion calling at the Hutchison home Tuesday evening. . . . O. L. Hodges plastering their milk house this week. . . . the report that Dell Christley has sold 30 acres to Mr. Wahl.

STANFIELD NEWS

By Mrs. Rose Hedrick

Mrs. F. B. Stuart, who has been in St. Paul at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harold Kerr for nearly a year, arrived here in time to enjoy Easter with her many friends. She will be at the home of Mrs. Mabel Richards for some time.

Mrs. Paul Baker and little Theresa Harriet left on Tuesday night for a six weeks visit at the home of her parents at Thermopolis, Wyoming.

Dean Cleghorn is expected to arrive here this week from Tampa, Florida, to visit his aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Cleghorn.

Mrs. Laura Jackson, mother of Glenn Jackson, returned Wednesday to her home in Portland after two weeks visit here with her son and family.

Ensign Earl Attebury left Wednesday for Salem where he will visit his brother Eddie and family. He also will visit relatives in California before his return to the naval air base at Corpus Cristi, Texas.

Mrs. George Attebury was able to leave St. Anthony's hospital Monday. Miss Betty Winn is a guest at the Attebury home.

Pointwise pointers on vegetables

Camouflage vegetables in casserole dishes, in souffles, omelets, or serve them in overcast salads and as ample garnishes. Tomatoes, onions, summer type squash, peppers, turnips, cabbage leaves, and cucumbers can be stuffed with a meat, cheese, or egg mixture and prepared as the main course. These are just some of the ways you can give your family and get them to eat their share of the precious vitamins and minerals offered by vegetables.

CARROT STUFFED ONIONS—Fill uncooked onion cups loosely with shredded raw carrots, season, and steam with a small amount of water in a Dutch oven or tightly covered sauce pan. Serve with the main course as a vegetable and garnish.

VEGETABLE SALADS—If the salad is generous enough in size, it may serve as both the vegetable and salad. Raw vegetables, of course, preserve all of the valuable minerals and vitamins. The flavor and texture of cooked vegetable salads are heightened by the inclusion of at least one raw vegetable. It adds that necessary crispness. For interesting and unusual combinations try chopped cucumbers and coarsely grated carrots . . . shredded raw cauliflower and tomato wedges . . . cooled asparagus, pickled beets, and sliced radishes . . . cooked green beans and sliced cucumbers.

A CHANCE TO SCORE YOURSELF

Use Julia Lee Wright's "Check Yourself Quiz on Vegetable Cookery" in this week's Family Circle to see how you score. It also gives valuable information on getting the most from canned, frozen and fresh vegetables. The Family Circle is free at Safeway.
