when Myrick raced around end in the first quarter to score standing up. From then on Hermiston was fighting uphill all the way, and they could not find the outstanding defense which had marked their victory the previous week end over Kennewick. The wind made it impossible for the Hermiston backs to pass accurately and Hermiston's offense has been built around a passing attack most of this season. The one Hermiston player who played a really good game was Bob Jensen, Bulldog center, and even he got away a bad pass which was costly.

ANNUAL STAFF IS SELECTED

(From the Bulldog)

The annual staff has been chosen and preparations for the construction of the Purple and Gold are now underway. The staff consists of the editor, Jack Jackson; assistant editor, Lois Hunt; photography editor, John Lewis; art editor, Maurine Sutton; and feature writing, Barbara Jean Woodard.

Within the next few days the number of annuals wanted must be made known and there must be an order for at least 220 before there can be any such publication. All photography, including senior pictures, must be in at once. There is hope that the photographer will come to school but it is not definite as yet.

There is a need for snapshots and other pictures, which should be close ups and small groups. These should be of good contrast in black and white. Anyone knowing where films, 120, 620, 116 and a pack of 4x5 can be obtained, please see Mr. MacArthur, for these are very much in demand.

BUCKS TROUCE LOCAL BULLDOGS

The Hermiston Bulldogs were handed their first home field defeat in four years and their worst licking in five years when they were dropped by the Pendleton High Buckeroos, 33-0, Friday, November 5. The Buckeroos simply took advantage of all the breaks early in the game and then forced Hermiston to try passes. Then they managed to grab a pair of these passes and turn them into Pendleton touchdowns.

The Bucks scored at least once in every period and in the second quarter they scored twice. Frank Lieualen and Jack Kelly were the two boys who were the main causes of Hermiston's troubles. Kelly was missed time after time by the Hermiston boys who couldn't seem to get a grip on him long enough to stop him. Lieualen, hard driving Buck fullback, punched away at the Bulldog line all afternoon and scored two touchdowns. Kelly scored one.

The Bucks started off with a rush
