School Days

When our fighters fly at 400 miles an hour with a Jap Zero or a Messerschmidt on their tails there isn't much time for cogitation so the Army and the Navy show as many motion pictures of actual dog fights and air battles as possible to our student fliers.

Pictures of trainer flights, bombing flights and flights by fighters are all a part of the routine for our student pilots and must be drilled into them just as it is necessary for us to remind ourselves daily of the necessity to buy an extra $100 Bond in September. U. S. Treasury Department

SAYLOR'S

When Cats Are Sick
When your cat backs away from his food, first examine his teeth. He may have an ulcerated or broken tooth that makes it painful to eat, and cats are averse to pain. If you find something wrong with his teeth, have the veterinarian take care of them. If his teeth are all right and he seems well, wait a couple of days for his appetite to come back. Check on him to see if he is constipated and, if so, give him a generous teaspoon of mineral oil on a flaked sardine and follow this with milk of magnesia twice a week.

Continued refusal to eat, particularly if accompanied by fever, dullness and roughened fur, is a matter for the veterinarian. Of course, cats sometimes become bored with what they are fed and want a change. Old cats frequently become choosy. In that event tempt them with something dainty and nourishing, chicken meat, beef juice, whatever they fancy. Sometimes a cat's

Tung Oil
Dr. David Fairchild of the U. S. department of agriculture first introduced the tung tree to California in 1905. Tung culture remained on a small scale and experimental level for 25 years, chiefly because manufacturers could obtain all they needed from China. But in recent years the acreage of tung plantations in this country has been greatly extended, and today about 175,000 acres in southeastern United States have been planted in tung trees. Of this area only about 50,000 to 60,000 acres are in full production of the oil-bearing fruit. In 1940 the United States produced 5,000,000 pounds of tung oil, but imported nearly 100,000,000 pounds.
