Wednesday, May 10, was a red letter day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Andrews as it was the 50th anniversary of the wedding of Miss Mary Ann Boyle and Fred W. Andrews. The ceremony was performed May 10, 1894, at the home of Miss Boyle's uncle, Barney Kennedy of Butter Creek. Mrs. Mary Enzeroth of Walla Walla is the only surviving guest who attended the Andrews wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews moved to their present farm, two miles west of Echo, April 14, 1896, where they have passed through the pioneering stages of transforming beaver land and salt grass to the fertile acres now producing alfalfa. These highly esteemed pioneers are now enjoying the fruits of their long years of work, but are still active and successful farmers. The Andrews received the congratulations of their many friends Wednesday. Next Sunday a family reunion and dinner will be held at their home honoring their anniversary. Children of Mr. and Mrs. Andrews are Bessie, now the wife of Major Troy Walker of Portland, Harry J., Fred Jr., Carrie M., and Joe G., all of whom live at home or on nearby farms. Grandchildren are Jean Walker, Marian, Florence, Barbara and Fred W. Andrews III.

Mrs. Flora Bell Malcolm, well known Echo pioneer, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ralph Singer, in Waitsburg, Wash., Sunday evening, May 14. Mrs. Malcolm, who had been in poor health for several years, was injured in a fall last winter and did not fully recover from its effects. At the time of her death she was visiting her daughter. Funeral services will be held at the Echo Methodist church Thursday afternoon at 2:30, with Rev. Earl B. Cotton officiating. Henrietta Rebekah Lodge No. 36, of which Mrs. Malcolm was a charter member, will hold a service at the Echo cemetery. Flora Bell Koontz was born August 6, 1865, at Umatilla, where her father, J. H. Koontz, operated a mercantile business. In the spring of 1881 Mr. Koontz founded the town of Echo, naming it after his youngest daughter, and moved here with his family. On August 17, 1884, Flora Koontz was married to Alex Malcolm. The ceremony was performed in Odd Fellows hall, a building which Mr. Koontz moved here from Umatilla. The building was the one in which Flora's sister, Elizabeth Koontz, was married to Fred Hendley in 1877 at Umatilla, where it was also used as an Odd Fellows hall. Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm lived in Penleton for four years, where Mr. Malcolm worked for the O.W.R. & N. Co. Later they farmed on what is known as the Ralph Stanfield place at Butter Creek for 13 years, and then returned to Echo to reside. Mr. Malcolm being employed as a clerk in the Koontz store. Since Mr. Malcolm's death in 1933 Mrs. Malcolm and her son, Archie, have resided in Echo. Mrs. Malcolm is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Thelma Singer of Waitsburg, Wash., three sons, Archie of Echo, Lawrence of The Dalles, and Delbert of Pendleton, and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Hendley of Echo.

Mrs. Carl Weltzin and infant son Wallace Carl, came home from St. Anthony hospital Wednesday.

Mrs. Henry Peters and Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Ingram of Portland came Thursday to attend the funeral of Jesse Arnold. Mr. Ingram is a brother of Mrs. Arnold.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bartholomew are spending a few days at St. Martin Springs.

Mrs. C. P. Caughen of Lead, S. Dakota, and Mrs. D. C. Callan of Hot Springs, S. Dakota, arrived Wednesday and will visit until Sunday at the home of their brother, M. E. Larive. They will also visit relatives at Walla before returning home.

A large number of friends from all parts of Umatilla county were present Thursday to attend the funeral of Jesse S. Arnold, many being obliged to stand in the aisles and vestibule of the Methodist church during the services at which The Rev. Eric O. Robathan and Eastern Star order officiated. Soloist was Mrs. Roy F. Taylor of Stanfield, with Mrs. M. Refvem of Stanfield as accompanist. Stuart Arnold and Mrs. Edith Hayden of Buda, Ill., made the trip here to attend the funeral of their brother, but other brothers and sisters were unable to be present. The great number of beautiful floral pieces indicated the high esteem in which Mr. Arnold was held in this community.

Stuart Arnold of Buda, Ill., and Mrs. Lila Driscoll of Princeton, Ill., who came west to attend the funeral of their brother, Jesse Arnold, are guests at the home of Ralph Saylor at Butter Creek, and will be here until next week.

Relatives of Mrs. Arnold who were here were Mr. and Mrs. Dave Ingram and Mr. and Mrs. Duane Ingram and baby of Birch Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Ingram of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Guderian of Athena. Among the out of town Rebekahs present were Mrs. Nell Ogle, Mr. and Mrs. George Vogt, Mrs. Fred Scheer and Mrs. Lena Kooppen of Pendleton. Mr. Arnold was a member of the Echo Odd Fellows and Rebekah lodges.

Elbe Robertson, brother of Mrs. W. D. Neill of Butter Creek, was in Echo Thursday calling on his niece, Mrs. Floyd Mathers. Mr. Robertson, who has been in the army and served in the South Seas, has recently been discharged from the service and is now in the employ of a sheep man in Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Coppinger returned Tuesday from a short visit in Portland. They were accompanied on their return by Mr. Coppinger's mother, Mrs. Maudie Coppinger of Portland, who is a guest at their farm home.

Miss Marion George has accepted a position in the office of the hospital at Umatilla Ordnance Depot.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Brown moved from the Bard house Monday to the former Stanfield house on Dupont street.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Frederick, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cray and Mrs. Yandel of Pendleton, spent Sunday in Milton visiting Mrs. Nell Gillette and Ray Jay, former Echo residents.

High temperature of the year so far was registered here Sunday at 90 above. A thunder storm in the evening with rain and wind moderated the temperature, and caused a break in the electric power line leaving the city in darkness for about 15 minutes. A brief hail storm was reported during the evening on upper Butter Creek where hail stones as large as an egg are said to have fallen.

Mr. and Mrs. John Young left Monday for Portland where Mr. Young will attend the Odd Fellows convention and Mrs. Young is a delegate to the Rebekah convention.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Esselstyn and daughter visited relatives in Echo Sunday. Mr. Esselstyn is home on furlough from Camp Farragut where he is taking special training for the navy. Their son, Ronald, underwent a mastoid operation at the Pendleton hospital Saturday and is reported to be recovering rapidly.

Approximately three tons of paper was collected in Echo during the recent waste paper drive by the Boy Scouts. The proceeds from the sale of the paper mill will be used to help finance a summer camping trip for the boys at Wallowa Lake.

Mrs. Irene Rohde, Mrs. Earl Cotton and Mrs. B. B. Middleton attended an institute for Sunday School teachers at Hermiston Tuesday.

A baccalaureate service for the senior class of Echo high school was held at the Methodist church Sunday evening, with Rev. E. M. Butenson of Pendleton preaching the sermon. Special music for the occasion was presented by the girls' sextette with Mary Lois Cotton at the piano.
