A 24-year-old Tewksbury, Mass., marine sergeant, who died on a South Pacific battlefield, asked his mother not to grieve for him in a letter left for forwarding in the event of his death.

Sgt. Paul Houlihan's letter, forwarded by his superior officers, reached Mrs. Jeremiah Houlihan, his mother, recently.

He wrote:

"Dearest Mother:

"Though I feel no premonitions at all, events are moving rapidly and I have instructed that this letter be forwarded to you, should I fail to return from one of the raids which we shall shortly be called to undertake. You must hope on for a month, but at the end of that time you must accept the fact that I have sacrificed myself for what we know is right, as so many splendid fellows have done.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ransier have received word from Marvin that he is now in India.

Pfc. Lawrence Smith has been transferred from Mississippi to Camp Wolters, Texas.

"You must not grieve for me. I have no fear of death, I would have it no other way. We are sent to this world to acquire a personality and a character to take with us that can never be taken from us.

"I consider my character fully developed. Thus at my early age my earthly mission is already fulfilled, and I am prepared to die with just one regret, and only one. That is that I could not devote myself to making your declining years more happy by being with you, but you will live in peace and freedom and I shall have directly contributed to that, so here again my life will not have been in vain.

"Your loving and devoted son,
Paul."
