BUILDING THE FUTURE OF AMERICA

Are you helping your boy lay the foundation for his future on the farm? Whether his impressions of farm life are favorable or not, depends to a large extent on how much time you have spent with him . . . showing him that farming can be more than just hard work.

When you use modern equipment, he will see how today's farming improvements will mean for him greater opportunities for profit and pleasure.

The Ford Tractor with Ferguson System eliminates backbreaking labor. There are no heavy levers to lift or lower. Instead, a finger tip control lever lifts, lowers and sets implements. No heavy wheel weights are needed, for this tractor automatically changes its weight to suit the job. Ferguson mounted implements can be attached or removed in a minute or less, and they go on or come off so easily that a young boy can change implements as quickly as a grown man.

The first time you come to town, bring your boy along, stop in and let us tell both of you all the outstanding features of the Ford Tractor with Ferguson System—you will see then how many extra hours it will give you—hours that are yours to spend as you please.

The High Cost of Living

The Low Price of Electricity

WE all know the cost of living is up—25.4% up since 1939*, in fact. But the average price per kilowatt-hour of PP&L electricity is down 21% since 1939. In that short time the average price we receive for residential electric service has been cut from 2.36 cents per kilowatt-hour to only 1.86 cents now. And compared with fifteen years ago, the average home served by PP&L is now using nearly twice as much electricity—at no more cost.
