

New Year's is at hand. Take over, Spirit of Youth! All aboard for the better days to come. May a ray of sunshine fall upon that new page to which we now turn. This is our wish for you.

WATCH NIGHT SERVICE SUNDAY

New Year's Eve comes this year on Sunday night and the Methodist church will hold special services on the occasion. Beginning at 8:00 p. m. with the regular meeting of the Sunday Evening Club, a series of special musical numbers, motion pictures, and refreshments will consume the evening hours until 11:30 p. m. when those present will assemble in the main sanctuary for a candle-light service of Holy Communion.

With the tragedy of war and the tension of the times about us, what better way could one spend the passing of an old year and the initiation of a new, than at the altar of the church, dedicating themselves to the huge task that still lies ahead, that of bringing a "peace on earth to men of good-will"? All of the community are invited to participate in this outstanding New Year's service.

GLENN PARSONS RESIGNS JOB

Glenn Parsons, who has been meat cutter at the Umatilla Cooperative Creamery for almost three years, resigned his position effective last week Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Parsons and daughter Glenda and son James plan to move to The Dalles after the first of the year where Mr. Parsons will be employed at Price's Market.

Ray Oviatt, at present meat cutter at Stone's Market and with many years of experience, will assume the position at the creamery after the first of the year.

NEW YEAR'S EVE PARTY PLANNED

A special New Year's Eve party is being planned at the local Carpenters Union Hall, according to Roy White, executive secretary, Oregon State Council of Carpenters. The usual features of such a party are again being planned, according to Mr. White. A short program will be presented. The public is invited to attend.

Wishing you a Happy New Year

In so many joyful ways, One that fills your heart with gladness Through a year of happy days.

WEATHER COLD DURING WEEK

The thermometer hovered around the freezing point all week but refused both to drop or raise any appreciable amounts. The coldest mark to date came on December 23 when the mercury dropped to 15 above and for a time threatened to get even colder when a north wind prevailed. However, this failed to materialize.

The readings follow:

Date	Max.	Min.
December 20	34	30
December 21	35	32
December 22	39	30
December 23	33	15
December 24	27	24
December 25	28	25
December 26	29	28

RELATIVES MEET IN SW PACIFIC

Mr. and Mrs. John Jendrzejewski have been informed by their daughter, Mrs. Geo. N. Welter, that the latter's husband recently made a trip into the Philippines, as far as Leyte. While in that area he looked up Walter Jendrzejewski, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Jendrzejewski. The terrain of the islands in that battle zone is quite rough and full of honey comb caves, making ideal hideouts for Jap snipers.

Walter stated that he was getting along nicely, with excellent food and that Christmas packages were arriving. He has been overseas for 34 months and still sees little chance of coming home as they are busily engaged in wiping out small contingents of Japs, receiving some help from the natives who are offered a bounty of $1.50 for each Jap delivered, dead or alive. He wishes to send season's greetings to all his friends here.

First Lt. Geo. N. Welter, whose wife, daughter and mother, Mrs. Lyman of Klamath Falls are visiting at the Jendrzejewski home, is with the United Air Lines, Army Reserve and Transports army personnel and supplies to the fighting fronts.

METHODISTS ARE HOST TO MASONS

The annual observance of Saint John the Evangelist day will be of special interest to all Masons this year as the Methodist church extends the invitation to worship at the 11 o'clock hour Sunday, December 31. The special St. John's message will be delivered by the Rev. W. A. MacArthur, newly elected chaplain of the local lodge. "All Masons in the vicinity are urged to attend this service," said J. V. Villermoure, the new Master-elect.

Masons will meet in the side room of the church ten minutes before service in order that the group may sit together in the sanctuary.

Saint John's day is not only an important day for all Masons, but is also a great day in the Christian church. The public is cordially invited to participate in this very special service.

(It Shouldn't Be Told)

The Saturday before Christmas, 1944, that sage gentleman, Everette P. Snyder, known as "Snipe" to the "Brain", was doing a little reminiscing at the Magazine Field Office.

You see, everybody was holding his breath for fear the "dark horse"—Washington—would decide to release a shipment at 3:00 P. M.

Snipe says, "For two weeks before Christmas in '42 we didn't do nothin' much. About 2:30 in the afternoon, here comes "Brains" saying we got a special. We worked Christmas Eve, Christmas day, and into Christmas night. I'm not going to breath easy till I punch out tonight. The boys over there don't stop fighting because it's Christmas, I guess—but those guys in the field could use a day off."

When this particular No Mans Land was first activated, everybody picked up agates. One fellow tore a ligament when he stooped over to pick up an agate. Thus was born what has since been known as the "Umatilla Stoop".

Chas. (F. C. Chastain to you) brought a little "gadset" out to the Field Office a few days ago. The gadget is called a View-Master. The View-Master operates on a similar basis to the stereoscope which was so popular back in the so called "good old days", except that the pictures are on a small disk which with but a flick of the finger may be turned to a different view. Each disc has six different pictures, all in natural color. One of the loveliest in Chas. collection was a disc of Hawaiian flowers. The View-Master makes possible a third dimensional eye picture, so vivid it seems impossible one cannot deeply breath the fragrance of the Giant Api or touch the tendrils of the clinging, exotic wood orchids.

The Art Redfeans had some pictures taken of their youngest recently. The first proofs weren't clear so the photographer was prevailed upon to try a second time. Little Janice seemed to feel "enough was just about enough". Her dress was carefully arranged, the camera was ready to click—when Janice coyly pulls up her dress—exposing her three-cornered baby specials. Patiently, the photographer rearranged the dress. Janice waited for him to "get set"—then the whole procedure begins again. This went on, much to small Janice's amusement, during the entire session with the photographer. The result—one of those things perhaps you've wanted to happen—five pictures of Janice, beginning with a tiny grin and ending with a great big smile—each picture perfect. Needless to say, the Redfeans are having all five pictures developed and placed side by side in one folder. It was the grin that got 'em.
