In the Eyes of the World Today

"There is a tide in the affairs of men,
Which taken at the flood, leads to fortune;
Omitted, all the voyage of their life
Is bound in shallows and miseries."

—Shakespeare

Our new President has seized the tide and America and all freedom loving nations have approved and are preparing to help him lead to fortune, in the affairs of men. He has made an excellent beginning.

Stettinius will remain Secretary of State, chairman of the San Francisco conference, and in high position to shape the things to come.

Senator Vanderberg is proving an able member of that conference and will help greatly in ironing out differences in the new league of nation before it reaches the United States Senate.

Herbert Hoover, now an elder statesman, has spoken with unbiased suggestions as to improvement and strengthening the new league in comparison to the old league. He approves President Truman and Wilson's 14 points.

Generals Hodges and Patton have been awarded by President Truman the four star rank, a well deserved recognition. They, with Generals Simpson and Patch, have gained the eyes of the world and a perpetual place in history. As Americans we are proud of them, along with Eisenhower and MacArthur.

Mohandas K. Gandhi has again spoken, and has retired himself again to out moded statesmanship. If his doctrines had prevailed, India would be slaves of Japan, without any chance for democracy and the Freedom he sought.

In the eyes of all the world also comes to San Francisco, Molotov, second statesman of Russia, rightful heir to Stalin, and Anthony Eden, likely the next Premier of England.

With all these great leaders and many others in the limelight, and with the tide of fortune setting strong our way, we should have no fears as to the final outcome of the successful end of the war and the peace settlement and the restoration of civilization to its normal status and progress.
