New Editors Named

(From The Bulldog)

New Bulldog editors for next year were appointed last week by the Bulldog advisers, Mrs. Margaret Anderson and Supt. W. G. Kersbergen.

The new assistant editor was announced as Delores Carr. Delores is well qualified for this position as she has a great interest in this type of work and has been one of the most faithful staff members this year. She will be a junior next fall and will thus have a year of experience before taking over the duties of the editor.

The editor will be Lucy Hollomon, who was associate editor this year.

These offices are appointive because the advisers feel that they know better than the students who is capable of doing the work.

The qualifications for this honor are based on scholastic ability, popularity, and activities and can go either to a girl or boy. After much frantic vote counting, it was revealed that Glen Wilcox is the senior to have his name placed on the cup.

The front portion of the truck did not upset and skidded to a stop just a few feet from the track. Neither of the men was injured. The large block signal tower just west of town was destroyed but the locomotive was undamaged. The truck was owned by the McCoy trucking company of Hood River. A load of lumber had just been delivered to Ordinance and Brown was starting homeward without a load when the accident occurred.

parents, Mr. and Mrs. Troy Coleman of Echo, that he is now hauling army supplies in conquered Europe, and has been over a large area there. He has visited Cologne, Aachen, Bonn and many places in Belgium. He says many of the cities are practically leveled to the ground but in rural districts one can hardly tell that a war has been fought.
