Pet of the week

Hello, my name is Chewy. I am a female chow-mix available for adoption at the Humane Society of Eastern Oregon Pet Rescue. I am a local stray, and I need a new home. I am 1 to 3 years old, and I have been spayed and microchipped. I am current on all my shots, and I am good with children and other dogs. I can be adopted for $125. I come with a free vet exam and a three-day return policy. If you are interested in welcoming Chewy into your home, please stop by Pet Rescue at 1844 N.W. Geer Road, Hermiston, or call 541-564-6222.

respect the burn ban, he said, and should never use illegal fireworks.

"It's shaping up, not only locally but all over the state, for what could potentially be a severe fire season," he said. "We're already starting to pick up some grass fires."

Stanton said summer is also the busiest season for the ambulance services the district provides.

"For us, the busier we get with our ambulance services, the harder it is to keep people at the station to fight fires," he said. "Our manpower resources are decreased, so we're stretched pretty thin. It can be very challenging at times to meet the demands of those multiple calls."

People who live near areas where grass fires are a possibility can help reduce the risk of a home fire, however. Stanton said people should create a defensible space around the house with green grass. He said pine needles should be swept off of roofs, and debris should be cleared from gutters.

The district also has mutual aid agreements with other fire agencies to help provide additional resources when necessary, Stanton said.

"We can't handle everything on our own, and they need help from us sometimes too," he said. "Nobody has enough resources to handle everything on their own. All fire departments struggle during the summer time, but we continue to strive to do our very best with what we have."
