Crash on Highway 395 sends three to hospitals

By SEAN HART
Staff Writer

Three people were taken to the hospital, including one by Life Flight helicopter, following a two-vehicle wreck in Hermiston on Monday afternoon.

Oregon State Police trooper Jerrad Little said first responders were dispatched to the scene of a wreck at Highway 395 and Baggett Lane north of Hermiston at about 3:50 p.m.

He said witnesses reported a silver Honda car was waiting in the turn lane northbound on Highway 395 and then turned left and was struck by a maroon Scion traveling southbound on the highway. Both vehicles came to rest near Baggett Lane.

Hermiston Fire & Emergency Services personnel responded and removed the doors of the Honda to extricate the driver and one passenger. Little said the driver was transported via air ambulance to an unknown hospital. The passenger was transported by ground ambulance to Good Shepherd Medical Center in Hermiston, he said, as was the driver of the Scion.

Little did not identify the names or ages of the vehicle occupants before they were transported from the scene, but all three occupants were women.

There was no indication that intoxication contributed to the crash, he said, and no charges were filed at the scene. He said, however, the investigation is ongoing.

Hermiston Fire & Emergency Services and Life Flight personnel load the driver of a silver Honda car into an air ambulance after a wreck involving a maroon Scion car at the intersection of Highway 395 and Baggett Lane north of Hermiston Monday afternoon. A passenger in the Honda and the driver of the Scion were transported by ground ambulance to Good Shepherd Medical Center. All three occupants were women, but names and ages were not available.

Pedestrian hit, killed on 11th Street

An 80-year-old Hermiston man died Friday morning after he was struck by a commercial garbage truck.

Hermiston police chief Jason Edmiston said officers responded to the 400 block of Southwest 11th Street to a report of a pedestrian being struck by a vehicle at 6:38 a.m. Officers found Leonardo L. Leal dead at the scene.

The initial investigation indicated Leal was attempting to cross Highway 207, in the middle of the block while wearing dark-colored clothing, Edmiston said. He was struck by a Hermiston Sanitary Disposal vehicle operated by a 32-year-old male employee from Hermiston, he said.

Based on preliminary information, speed is not believed to have been a contributing factor, nor were there signs of any type of intoxicating substances, Edmiston said, adding the driver and company were forthcoming and cooperative. The driver called 9-1-1 and reported the crash.

Edmiston said the department will submit evidence to the crime lab for analysis, and a full report will be sent to the Umatilla County District Attorney's Office for review.

"It's a very sad day for the Leal family," Edmiston said. "This investigation will remain open until we receive lab reports back, which could be several weeks."

Oregon State Police officers assisted with reconstructing the crash scene. The Oregon Department of Transportation assisted with traffic control while 11th Street was closed from Orchard Avenue and Highland Avenue until 10:40 a.m.
