NEWS IN BRIEF

Krispy Kreme donuts for sale

The Stanfield High School band is selling Krispy Kreme donuts. The fundraiser will help earn money for the group's Band Tour 2017 to Victoria, British Columbia. The donuts can be purchased Friday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Wal-Mart, 1350 N. First St. The cost is $12 per dozen for glazed donuts.

Forum to discuss sheltered workshops case

A free community forum will provide information on the implications of Lane vs. Brown. Those in attendance will learn about the proposed settlement agreement in the case and what it means to youths and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities and their families. Advocates of those with intellectual disabilities understand there will be more opportunities to work in competitive employment instead of being segregated in sheltered workshops. Open to the public, the forum is Thursday from 2-4 p.m. in the Community Room at Pendleton City Hall, 500 S.W. Dorion Ave., Pendleton. A special invitation is extended to people who attend sheltered workshops and their families, as well as local advocates and community partners. For more information, contact The Arc Umatilla County at 541-567-7615.

Theater offers sensory friendly movies

Special sensory friendly movies provide a comfortable atmosphere with the lights up a little and the volume down. The Arc Umatilla County in conjunction with Hermiston Stadium 8 Cinemas is offering sensory shows for individuals and families with special needs. Three movies will be offered Saturday, Oct. 31, with the doors opening at 10 a.m. and the movies beginning at 10:30 a.m. The theater is located at 355 W. Theater Lane, off Highway 395 in Hermiston. The cost is $5 per person. The Arc advocates for the rights of children and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities. For more information about programs, services and activities, call 541-567-7615 or visit www.facebook.com/arcofumatillacounty.

Liberty Quartet to perform area concerts

A popular southern gospel quartet will perform in Stanfield. Liberty Quartet will play Friday at 7 p.m. at Stanfield Baptist Church, 310 N.E. Wheeler Ave. There's no admission charge, but a freewill offering will be taken. Based in Idaho, the group has a full-time concert ministry, performing for church services, nursing homes, prisons and music festivals. For more information about the group, visit www.libertyquartet.com.

Parkinson's group hosts special speaker

Heather Balducci, licensed clinical social worker, will discuss Depression and Anxiety in Parkinson's Disease: Causes, Symptoms and treatment. The free meeting is Monday, Nov. 2, at 1 p.m. in the meeting room at Desert Lanes, 1545 N. First St., Hermiston. Food and beverages are available for purchase. Balducci joined the team at Parkinson's Resources of Oregon in 2014. She is interested in helping individuals and groups overcome barriers to activities that support quality of life, as well as recognizing and treating mental health symptoms common to Parkinson's Disease. The event is sponsored by the Parkinson's Disease Support Group, which meets the first Monday of each month at the bowling alley. It's open to those affected by the disease, as well as family, friends, care providers and others interested in the disease.
