

BASEBALL

(12-8, 5-3 CRC) was unable to pull away and stranded runners in scoring position in the first, fourth and fifth innings.

The Bulldogs took the lead in the second inning when Lukas Tolan singled to drive in Sexton from third base.

Pendleton (11-10, 2-6 CRC) pitcher James Bradt picked up one of his seven strikeouts to end the inning with two on for the Bulldogs, though, and neither team scored again until the Bucks tied it in the sixth.

Kai Quinn, who finished with two of the three hits off Robles, started the Bucks off in the sixth with a one-out single on a hard grounder hit deep into the hole at shortstop. Devon Roe then reached one of Hermiston's two errors in the game, allowing Quinn to get to third where he was driven in by a sacrifice fly off the bat of Wyatt Morris.

But like Bradt had in the second, Robles limited the damage with a strikeout to end the inning.

Neither team had a runner reach base in the seventh, but Andrew James made sure that would not be the case in the extra inning as he led off Hermiston's eighth with a double off the wall in left field.

"It shocked me," Robles said. "A freshman coming in and hitting that? I mean, it shocked me, it really did."

"It was just a good team effort," James said. "We've been in close games the whole year and that's just what we've been doing. We found a way to pull it off and we're having a good stretch."

Bradt was poised to get out of the inning, though, after striking out Robles and getting Chase Root to fly out, but Daniel Gossler's speed down the line kept the inning going when he legged out a grounded to third and forced a hurried throw to first that bounced out of play and brought James in for the eventual game-winning run.

Gossler later scored on a single to center by Sexton, who went 3 for 4 in the game and 5 for 8 on the day. Sexton out-dued Pendleton's Quinn Cockburn in the first game and finished with five strikeouts and two walks while allowing three earned runs on seven hits. Cockburn also went the whole way on the mound and had four strikeouts, three walks and allowed three earned runs on seven hits.

It was the Bulldogs out in front of that one as well as Robles led the game off with a first-pitch single and would later score on an error by the Bucks.

Pendleton knotted the score in the second when Morris walked to lead off, took second on a passed ball and then scored on a single by Ryan Russell hit through the right side of the infield.

The Bulldogs quickly went back up when James scored on an error in the top of the third, but the Bucks answered in their at-bat with two runs for their only lead of the day.

Quinn got on with a one-out seeing-eye single up the middle and scored on Devon Roe's triple that took an odd hop and rolled all the way to the wall in center.

Following an out, Bradt doubled to center to bring Roe in for a 3-2 lead before Sexton could end the rally with a strikeout.

Neither team had a runner reach second in the fourth or fifth innings, then Hermiston went up for good with three runs in the sixth.

Sexton singled to lead off, and Mitch Brown took his place on the bags. A sacrifice moved him to second, then two passed balls brought him around to score for a 3-3 tie.

Hayden Edmiston walked, took second on one of those passed balls, was on third after a single by Kody Moss and then scored on the third passed ball of the inning to make it 4-3.

"(The Bucks) don't make a lot of mistakes, and you do have to capitalize," Hawkins said. "We do have the team where we can hit and run, we can fake bunt steal, we can do those things that put pressure on the other team and we're not bad at it. So that's what we're going to do and that's our attitude."

Hermiston added its final run when James singled in Moss two batters later.

The wins capped a big week for the Bulldogs, which began with a 9-1 victory over defending state champs Hood River on Tuesday.

"It's amazing," Robles said of the team's week. "It gives us a good mentality of we're doing pretty good right now, and we're going to finish this year off strong."

"It give us motivation to get better," James said. "We've still got to push, and we can still get better."

For Pendleton, which is 2-7 in its last nine, the losses dropped them three games out of second in a tie for fourth place in the CRC with four games to play.

"We're digging ourselves a hole and we need to stay together as a team," Cockburn said. "We need to forget about all that happened here. We hurt ourselves a lot (Friday) and we just need to clean it up before Tuesday and forget about it, and try to get back on track."

"We still have a shot to make the playoffs, we just need to stay together and get some confidence and play ohow we know we can. We played good at the start of the season and kind of fell off a little bit. We know we can be there. We know we can be one of the top teams in the state."

Bucks make statement against the Bulldogs

By ERIC SINGER

Staff Writer

The Pendleton Buckaroos wanted to make a statement against the rival Hermiston Bulldogs on Friday, and once the games were played the Buckaroos definitely made their point.

Pendleton dominated Hermiston from the get-go, sweeping the both games by wide margins taking game one 14-1 and game two 11-1 on a cold, windy day at Steve Cary Field. With the wins, Pendleton (17-4, 6-2 CRC) now sits alone in first place in the Columbia River Conference.

For Hermiston (13-9, 4-4) it was quite a disappointment as the Bulldogs had been playing very solid until Friday, when some defensive mistakes — a combined eight errors — and slow bats combined for an overall rough day.

"That was hard," Hermiston coach Kate Greenough said. "I didn't expect us to make as many errors as we did and to take so long to make adjustments at bats. The errors killed us, we walked some (batters) which eventually hurt us but we learned a lot for Tuesday."

Pendleton had a very balanced attack on offense on Friday against Hermiston (13-9, 4-4), as six batters combined for three hits or more on the day leading to 25 total hits.

In the first game, Pendleton never allowed Hermiston starter Julissa Almaguer to settle in on the mound as six batters came to the plate and five runs scored before the first out was made. Almaguer was chased after one inning and was replaced by Breanna Naylor, who finished with seven runs and seven hits allowed in three innings with a pair of strikeouts.

Hermiston scored its only run in that game in the fourth inning, when Ellery Jones drew a lead-off walk against Pendleton starter Kiersten Murphy and eventually scored on a soft line drive off the bat of Sydney Stefani that landed in shallow right field to cut the lead to 12-1.

In game two, it was Hermiston to strike first on offense as Jamie Hinkley started the game with a single. Two batters later, Hinkley scored from third on a passed ball to give Hermiston the early 1-0 lead.
