

Woman arrested after four incidents in one day

Hermiston police were kept busy Monday responding to numerous incidents involving a woman Police Chief Jason Edmiston said in a news release was “clearly having a crisis of some kind.”

At approximately 2 a.m. officers responded to a disturbance at Tower Apartments involving a 46-year-old woman who had locked herself out of her apartment and was causing a scene.

At 7:15 a.m. they contacted the woman again after reports that she was walking down the road “acting crazy,” but she refused offers of help.

At 9:30 a.m. Hermiston police took the woman to Good Shepherd Medical Center after responding to another call about her, this time that she was walking down Feedville Road naked.

And at 1:30 p.m. police received “numerous calls” from citizens who were alarmed after the woman walked away from the hospital and down the road with her bathrobe open. At that point she was taken to Umatilla County Jail in Pendleton on charges of disorderly conduct.

Edmiston said the chain of events was an example of a system that is “extremely frustrating” for law enforcement.

“The new trend across the nation is to train officers to interact with people in crisis differently than before,” he wrote in a statement. “Inasmuch as that sounds great, the reality is people who are in crisis should be getting treatment from professionals not from line level police officers.”

“In my opinion, the system failed yet again in this case as our agency was forced to arrest a person that clearly needs medical treatment of some kind.”

Events urge people to get active

By JENNIFER COLTON
Staff Writer

More than a dozen events will work to help Hermiston be “screen-free” this week, away from digital screens and out in the community.

Screen-free week is a national event to encourage people to “read, play, think, create, get active and spend more time with family and friends instead of watching TV, surfing the web or playing with apps and video games.”

In Hermiston, events will focus on family and health.

“Basically every evening, we have an event as part of screen-free week,” event coordinator Angie Treadwell said. “We’re very excited, and everything planned is going to be fun for any age.”

Today’s events include disc golf, parachute play and stories with the Ready2Learn program from 6-7 p.m. at Sunset Elementary.

6:18 a.m. - A window was broken out in a vehicle on East Beech Avenue in Hermiston. The stereo was ripped out but left behind.

8:10 a.m. - Umatilla police began an investigation into a guest room break-in at the Quality Inn, 705 Willamette St., Umatilla, and theft of a TV.

9:34 a.m. - A Umatilla woman on B Street reported that Sunday night around 10:30 p.m. she caught a white female near her husband's car with the door wide open. She said she did not report at the time because she did not know she could make the report at night.

She added strange people started showing up at her house Sunday night after someone pushed a white car there during the weekend. That vehicle was still in front of her house, she said.

11:35 a.m. - A vehicle drove through the chain link fence in the Garden Department at the Hermiston Wal-Mart. One store worker was stuck and injured.

12:37 p.m. - A worker at the Port Of Umatilla on Launch Lane and Roxbury Road, Umatilla, reported they were unloading box cars when the smell of ammonia became so strong it was nauseating. The caller asked police to check it out because he did not think anyone at the port would do anything about it.

12:59 p.m. - Two men parked a red Nissan pickup at a house
