"We talked about fighting every inning, every ball, and staying through it," she said of her post-game talk with the team. "Because there were some innings where we slowed up a little bit and they took advantage

Things weren't going Hermiston's way when they were at the plate, either, and Pendleton pitcher Lauren Richards had another stalwart afternoon in the circle. She carried a no-hitter into the fifth inning and allowed just three hits with nine strikeouts and one hit batter. Hermiston didn't score until the bottom of the seventh

"I thought I did pretty well," Richards said. "I had my defense back there to back me up again, I can always trust them." "She threw a great little curveball today, just popping the ball in hard and we just took too long to make adjustments," Greenough said. "We're going to see really good pitching from here on out so it's a really good thing to see what we need to work on for the next four days."

Richards also went 2 for 4 at the plate and eight Buckaroos recorded at least one hit and one run. The ninth, Feather Dick, added an RBI. Madison Parker was 3 for 4, Ellie Richards had three RBI, and Kalan McGlothan had two hits, two runs and two RBI.

Pendleton pulled away with four runs in the seventh and four more in the ninth, and will play a nonleague game against Mac-Hi on Thursday, May 19, to prepare for the state playoffs. By winning the CRC, the Bucks have a bye into the 16-team round.

Hermiston, which finished third in the CRC, will turn its attention to the playin round where it will play at either Sandy or La Salle Prep from the Northwest Oregon league on Friday, May 20.

er a team came to Adams last year, when he started to get into contact with the Clay Target League. Then in December of 2015, Adams inquired with Hermiston athletic director Blaine Ganvoa about having the school-sponsored team for the spring season, with the only roadblock being insurance.

"For us the biggest challenge was insurance for the school district," Adams said. "The Clay Target League covers the students and the coaches, but the districts had to get their own coverage."

After weeks of meetings with the school board and other school officials, Ganvoa gave Adams the go-ahead in February with full support from the school.

Any time we can keep kids active is a good thing," Ganvoa said.

Adams then went through various conference calls with other gun clubs in Oregon trying to gauge interest on starting a league in the state and at one time had 14 clubs with interest — however a lot of that interest hit a snag when it came to insurance.

Insurance was the main snag for other schools in Oregon as well. In the end only Echo and Oregon City joined into the Oregon State High School League.

Each of the three teams will compete in a nine-week schedule. with four practice weeks followed by five weeks of league events where the teams keep score. As of printing they are in their third week of competition with Hermiston leading the pack with 166 points, Echo in second with 92.5 and Oregon City with 83.5.

The season will conclude with a state championship shoot in Hillsboro on June 25, where any of the team's shooters are eligible to

The Hermiston program is primarily funded through grants awarded by the NRA, with the most recent award of nearly $23,000 going towards the purchase of two new traps and trap fields for the gun club, as well as all the targets and ammunition for the high school team.

Trapshooting is not necessarily new to Hermiston youth, as the 4-H program and Amateur Trapshooting Association (ATA) have been very popular for many years. The high school team — which is open to any interested students from grades 6-12 — features a mixture of experienced and firstyear trap shooters, with Clark being one of the more inexperienced

"This is actually my first year doing the sport," he said. "My best friend Devon (Brittner) has been doing it since he was a kid and he got me involved ... we actually had a party where we just came out here (to the gun club) and shot a bunch and that got me really into

Other students, such as Hermiston freshman Case Hiatt, bring a few years of experience and plenty of success to the team. The 15-year-old Hiatt is in his fourth year of clay target shooting, and started in 4-H before moving on to

Most recently, Hiatt competed at the Camas Prairie Shoot at the Walla Walla Gun Club on March 18-20 and finished as the overall champion, earning a cool $1,400 check and numerous trophies.

So far, Adams has been very happy with the participation and success the team has had, but is excited to help it grow starting

"I anticipate this will grow significantly," Adams said. "This year due to the insurance issue we weren't able to really get into the high school and introduce the sport and get kids signed up. I know we left some behind but next year will be better. I expect two or three times the kids we have now."
