HERMISTON HISTORY

25 years ago DECEMBER 1991

• Boardman City Council members chose to ignore City Manager Gene Allen's letter of resignation when hearing it. Instead giving him a unanimous vote of confidence and directing him to continue as overseer of city operations. Allen was flattered by the council members, who apparently don't want him to quit. He said, he has no intention of quitting before someone is found to replace him. "This is my city too, and I won't leave my city high and dry,"

• Hermiston High School football coach Ray Braun, led the Bulldog football squad into the state Class 4A playoffs for the first time, HHS finished 7-3 in the season, the first under the new head coach.

• The Hermiston Bulldog basketball team played host to the Sunnyside Grizzlies in a non-league game on Saturday. The Grizzlies beat Hermiston, 84-65, under new head coach Alan Wellman. With a 0 record in Inter-mountain Conference play, the HHS boys were scheduled to resume league play against Pendleton. A classified ad listed "This Weeks Best Buy House" by Schroth Realty Inc., listed a home in the Highland Hills neighborhood. The home was described as being on a tranquil cul-de-sac, with four bedrooms, one and three-quarters baths, designed with comfort in mind, featuring automatic sprinklers, an in-ground swimming pool, fenced yard, a family room with a pellet stove and a fireplace in the living room. Asking price: $85,000. • On the front page of the Hermiston Herald, Good Shepherd Community Hospital advertised its 1991 em12 p.m. Costs $3.50 for seniors over 50. $4 for adults under 50, $1 for children 10 and over, $3 for Meals on Wheels. Lt. Col. Dan Vawter (left) of the Oregon National Guard accepts 6.6 acres of city-owned land in a presentation with Mayor Frank Harkenrider (right) in December 1991. The property, located in southeast Hermiston, was presented for construction of a new armory. Earlier plans to build near the Hermiston Butte were blocked by community opposition. "I'm sorry I was maybe against the other spot (at the butte)," Harkenrider said to Vawter, "but I think it worked out for the best." Vawter said the delay could jeopardize the project because of federal cutbacks in defense and the state's budget in the wake of the property tax limiting Ballot Measure 5. Despite concerns for funding the $1.8 million project, Vawter remained optimistic. "I expect to get the armory built," he said, with construction expected to start in 1993. The armory was built. The facility, located at 900 SE Columbia Drive, was dedicated on Aug. 9, 1997.
