Bike camp pedals into Hermiston

HERMISTON HERALD

A nonprofit organization that teaches individuals with disabilities to ride a bicycle is cruising into Hermiston.

The iCan Bike program is a five-day camp that features one 75-minute session per day. There are five session times to choose from, with the first session available at 8:30 a.m. and the last one at 3:35 p.m. It runs June 26-30 at Armand Larive Middle School, 1497 S.W. Ninth St., Hermiston.

Hosted by Hermiston Kiwanis and supported by the Hermiston School District, InterMountain Education Service District, numerous business and private donations, the cost is $99 for participants. Discounts may be available for returning riders or multiple participants from a family.

Using adaptive equipment, trained professionals and volunteers, more than 80 percent of the participants learn to ride a conventional bicycle independently by the end of camp.

Riders must be at least 8 years old (teens and adults are also welcome), have a disability and be able to walk without an assistive device such as a walker or cane. Participants also must be able to side-step quickly, have an inseam measurement of at least 20 inches and weigh no more than 220 pounds.

Volunteers who are age 16 years and older and able to help at the same time each of the five days are needed. Training will be provided. Volunteers will offer physical, emotional and motivational support as they walk and run alongside the riders. Volunteers are asked to register online and will need to attend a 45-minute orientation session Sunday, June 25 in the commons at Armand Larive — the exact time will be announced.

Volunteers and participants can register at www.icanshine.org/hermiston-or. For questions, contact icانبikehermiston@gmail.com or 541-667-6021.
