

Game show event will feature Erik Estrada

HERMISTON HERALD

Visitors to Wildhorse Resort & Casino can still win a seat to a live game show and may be chosen as a contestant.

Host Erik Estrada, a Hollywood actor best known for his role as Frank "Ponch" Poncherello from 1977-83 on NBC's "CHiPs," is the host. Audience members will have a chance to win $100,000 during "America's Greatest Game Shows."

To get a seat at the live show, people need to earn entries through casino game play with their Club Wild card. Additional entry opportunities can be obtained by swiping the card daily at the casino.

The show is 5 p.m. Sunday in the Rivers Event Center at Wild-horse, off Interstate 84 at Exit 216, Mission. It's free to attend.

Estrada has been involved with "America's Greatest Game Shows" for several years. He returns for a second year at Wildhorse, which hosted its inaugural event last fall. A second show was added during the 2016 event due to its popularity.

classics — only with a twist. Contestants and audience members have fun as Estrada introduces to them to such games as "The NOT So Newlywed Game," "Dancing With Yourself" and "Name That Song."

The show's executive producer is Jimmy Richards. An entertainment insider, Richards has promoted game shows for most of his career. Hailing from Chicago, Richards' booming voice can be heard during "America's Greatest Game Shows." Also on the road crew is backstage producer Manny Davis. The youngest son of Sammy Davis Jr., Manny Davis makes cameo appearances during shows.
