

THREE MINUTES WITH ...

CORBIN HANLY

Hermiston High School student and Subway employee

When and why did you move to Hermiston?
I moved here in July of 2017 because of my dad's job.

What is your favorite place to eat in Hermiston?
Probably Taste of Thai — I like that place.

What do you like to do in your spare time?
Play basketball.

What surprises you about Hermiston?
Probably the biggest surprise has been the weather change. I came from the Portland/Vancouver area.

What was the last book you read?
"Among the Free" by Margaret Haddix.

What app or website do you use most often other than Facebook or Google?
Snapchat.

If you could travel anywhere, where would you go?
Ireland, without a doubt, and I will be going there in a few months.

What is the funniest thing that's ever happened to you?
There's a lot I can't say. But when we were kids, my brother and I made these jumps in our backyard, and my brother flipped and rolled down the hill. That was pretty funny. He got back up and wanted to go again.

What is one of your goals for the next 12 months?
To join the military.

What is your proudest accomplishment?
Probably the very first time I brought home a report card with a 4.0.

Freezing rain caused this one-vehicle rollover on Interstate 84 near Hermiston in 1992.

•The east half of Spillway Park at McNary Dam will be closed as construction continues on the new juvenile fish bypass facility. The eastern portion of the park's picnic area and shoreline fishing access will be relocated after completion of the fish facility, expected in March of 1994.

•Fire leaped out of both sides of a stairwell and danced along the rooftop as firefighters fought to extinguish an early morning blaze at the Courtyard Apartments. More than 15 firefighters battled the fire for two and one half hours, in freezing weather conditions. Water froze on the ground around them, making sidewalks, parking lots and even the grass a hazard. According to Pat Ward, Hermiston fire marshal, the fire started when an electrical wire in the wall shorted out in an unoccupied upstairs apartment. Adjacent apartments were occupied, but all the residents escaped safely. The damage estimate for the apartments and contents is at $75,000.

•Diseased Washington cattle have brought down a cattle shipment quarantine on all stock movements into Oregon from the north. The disease, saroptic mange, is thought to have been brought to a Sunnyside, WA., feedlot by infested cattle from Nevada. The scab-like disease is reported to be highly contagious.

•A controlled burn destroyed the Pendleton Grain Growers elevator in Umatilla. The elevator, a Columbia River landmark, was started in 1940 with the construction of the center section of the 350,000 bushel final storage space. The elevator burned to clear the site for Lake Umatilla, which will be formed with the closing of the gates at John Day Dam next spring. The Umatilla Fire Department, who for years had mapped plans on how to fight fire at the PGG elevator, were on hand for the blaze to protect the Tidewater-Shaver tank farm to the southeast.

•A campaign to clean up the rats at the city dump and other places infested by the varmints will be launched in the near future. There has been considerable interest displayed in the movement to rid vacant buildings and swampy places so city officials have taken up the project. Anyone having trouble with rats or have information which would aid in the job are asked to contact Mayor F.C. McKenzie. Charles Daley of Pendleton and Harold Dobyns, assistant district agent of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, will lend their assistance.

•Forms and instructions for making appeals for more gasoline and mileage for farm trucks and pickups have been promised the county farm transportation committee by the Office of Defense Transportation, Portland, in the near future. Jens Terjeson, chairman of the county farm transportation committee, has announced that a meeting of the committee will be held soon. At this meeting the policy and procedure to be followed for making appeals will be decided. The local rationing boards have been authorized to issue coupons for emergency gasoline until January 31, 1943, according to the Office of Defense Transportation. The forms will then be available and assistance given at the office of Gene Lear, assistant county agent in Hermiston.

100 YEARS AGO
DECEMBER 22, 1917

•During the past 10 days Water Superintendent Salser has been kept busy practically night and day pumping water directly into the city mains so as to give Contractor Beisse an opportunity to do some needed work on the city reservoir located on the apex of Hermiston butte. With a force of men the work was executed in the least possible time. The repairs consisted of putting a stop to a leak that had sprung in the bottom of the reservoir by the breaking of the concrete floor, and in the process of doing this the big tank was given a much needed flushing out and cleaning, after which the walls were thoroughly gone over with a thick coat of waterproof paint.

•In a communication received by The Hermiston Herald, Collector of Internal Revenue Milton A. Miller, announces that a federal income tax collector will be sent into this county on Jan. 3 and will be here until Jan. 30. He will have his office in the courthouse at the county seat and will be there every day ready and willing to help persons subject to the income tax make out their returns without any cost to them for his services. Returns of income for the year 1917 must be made on forms provided for the purpose before March 1, 1918. Because a good many people don't understand the law and won't know how to make out their returns, the government is sending in this expert to do it for them. But the duty is on the taxpayer to make himself known to the government. If he doesn't make a return as required before March 1, he may have to pay a penalty ranging from $20 to $1,000 or go to jail. So if you don't want to take chances on going to jail, you better call on the income tax man. Whether you see the income tax man or not, you must make a return if subject to tax.
