

Springtime at Lovin' Spadefuls

Flowers and vegetables are beginning to poke through the soil at Lovin' Spadefuls Community Garden in Hermiston, but there are still 20 plots left for interested community members. The 60-plot garden is off Elm Avenue behind Good Shepherd Medical Center, which recently helped with landscaping and fencing around the garden.

"It changed the whole dynamic of the garden space, and makes it more user-friendly," organizer Chelle Hankinson said.

The plots are $10 per season and are irrigated by an automatic sprinkler system. Rakes and other tools are available for use, and the Oregon Food Bank has donated seeds.

To request a plot, visit Umatilla-Morrow Head Start at 110 NE Fourth St. in Hermiston.
