PUBLIC NOTICE

The Oregon Military Department (OMD), the administrative head of the Oregon Army National Guard, recently acquired a license for 7,500 acres of the former Umatilla Army Chemical Depot for use as a military training site. This 7,500-acre training site, called Camp Umatilla Oregon, remains under federal ownership and includes many of the original buildings that the US Army has determined are eligible for inclusion on the National Register of Historic Places as contributing elements to a Historic District. According to the National Historic Preservation Act, the OMD has consulted with the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation, National Guard Bureau, Oregon State Historic Preservation Office, and the Confederated Tribes of the Umatilla Indian Reservation and developed a Programmatic Agreement describing how proposed adverse effects will be mitigated. The consulting parties have agreed to preserve and continue to use 12 historic buildings as a smaller representative historic district within the existing cantonment area. Now in its final draft form, this Programmatic Agreement is available for public comment. Those interested in commenting should contact Mr. Kris Mitchell via email at kris.c.mitchell.nfg@mail.mil or via regular post at Oregon Military Department (AG-ENV), PO Box 14350, Salem, OR 97309.
