April Chamber Luncheon

Every April we celebrate Administrative Professionals Day at our Chamber Luncheon. This year I'm pleased to announce Tammy Malgesini will be our speaker.

After more than two decades in the human services field, Tammy picked up a pen in 2006 and began writing for EO Media Group. She has a bachelor's degree in psychology/sociology from George Fox University.

Tammy is hopelessly addicted to Pepsi, playing board games, spending time with her husband and spoiling her canine kids. She also enjoys taking trips with friends, golfing, biking and occasionally performing stand-up comedy.

As the community editor of the Hermiston Herald and East Oregonian, Tammy is responsible for writing precede story/briefs for upcoming community events, feature stories and serve as back-up for handling obituaries. In addition, she periodically writes a column in the Herald, inside my shoes, which features general musings about life. Tammy won the "Best Local Column" from the Oregon Newspaper Publishers Association during the 2016 Better Newspaper Contest.

She has served as a photography judge for the Umatilla County Fair since 2006 and for two years for the Morrow County Fair; judged the arts & entertainment finalists for the California Newspaper Publishers Association and serves on the committee for Pacific Women's Quest, a fall retreat at the Oregon coast. She was a Special Olympics ski coach for many years until her knee failed her. Tammy also answers her phone at all hours of the day and night for those seeking information about alcohol and drug problems.

Please Join us April 17 at the Port of Morrow Riverfront Center in celebrating all the wonderful Administrative Assistants in our area that keep our workplaces going like a well-oiled machine. Please RSVP to the Boardman Chamber by April 12. The Senior Center will be serving Baked Chicken, potato salad, a roll and home-made dessert. Price for lunch is $12
