PET OF THE WEEK

Xena is a very sweet dog who came into the rescue after being hit by a car and had to have her leg amputated. She is still healing and has phantom limb pain. She is adjusting well, but needs some help. She is crate and potty trained.

Xena's ideal home will be with someone that is home a lot or can take her to work with them. No children under 10 as she is small and still has pain. She does not do well with stairs and should not be left outside unattended. She also needs someone who can afford her vet needs and medications.
