

U.S. Census Bureau still looking for Umatilla County workers

HERMISTON HERALD

The U.S. Census Bureau still has several positions open for people to work on the 2020 Census in Umatilla County. The job pays $16-17.50 per hour and allows for you to set your own schedule as long as you work 20 hours per week. Workers can also choose to work up to 40 hours per week if they want. There is also a mileage reimbursement of 57 cents per mile. Those a part of SNAP, TANF or HUD programs can't be disqualified due to the income they earn from the position. For those interested in applying, a U.S. Census rep will be at Pioneer and Morrow halls at Blue Mountain Community College on Wednesday from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Applications can also be submitted at www.2020Census.gov/jobs. All residents are being urged to participate in the census. The official population count, conducted every 10 years, is used to determined funding that communities can receive from the state and federal government, Congressional seats, state legislature seats and more. For updates on the census, area residents can like the Umatilla County Census 2020 page on Facebook.
