$300,000 available in relief grants in Morrow County

HERMISTON HERALD

Morrow County and the Tillamook County Creamery Association have made $300,000 in COVID-relief grants available to local businesses and nonprofits, according to a press release.

The funds are coming from the Tillamook County Creamery Association and Business Oregon’s allotment of coronavirus relief package funds. Grants will be dispersed in amounts from $2,500 to $25,000 determined by the number of employees and amount of 60-day fixed expenses.

“Local businesses make up the fabric of our community and they are hurting due to the impacts of COVID-19,” Morrow County Commissioner Melissa Lindsay stated in the release. “Businesses can now access these funds, and we encourage everyone who meets the criteria to apply as soon as they can.”

Only Morrow County businesses and organizations are eligible to apply, and must meet the following criteria:

- The business must have 25 or fewer employees.
- The business must be headquartered in Oregon and have its principal operations in Oregon.
- If required by Oregon law to be registered with the Oregon Secretary of State to do business in Oregon, the business must be registered.
- The business was affected in either one of the following ways: 1.) Prohibited from operation as directed by Executive Order 20-12 or 2.) Can demonstrate a one-month decline in sales of 50% or more, beginning in March 2020.

Businesses and organizations aren’t eligible to apply if they’ve already received relief funding from the “State of Oregon COVID-19 Emergency Business Grant program or from the Statewide Business and Cultural Support Program,” the release stated.

Warming:

being open until 10 p.m. each night so guests can come in and warm up for a little bit and have some soup.

The board has scheduled 16 different training times for volunteers (see accompanying information box). All volunteers, including returnees, must complete the 90-minute training session and have a background check before volunteering.

Colder, snowier winters usually mean an increase in guests for area warming stations. On Monday, Oct. 26, Hermiston saw a record-low temperature for the date, at 18 degrees. Other surrounding communities also set records Sunday, Oct. 25.

If people are concerned about the safety or time commitment of volunteering on overnight shifts at the warming station, they can also make donations. Francis said the warming station is running on a “very slim budget” this year after not getting a grant it normally does. People can donate money to pay for background checks for volunteers and supplies. The warming station also takes donations of supplies, and Francis said they are in particular need of single-serving, microwavable soup cups and macaroni cups to serve to guests.

To raise money, they are raffling off a 6 foot by 10 foot 2014 Mirage cargo trailer, and people can also choose the Hermiston Warming Station as a recipient of Amazon Smile funds when they purchase items through Amazon.

They are working on setting up a drop box for donations, but for now people can call the Warming Station at 541-303-3256 to set up a time to donate.
