BAKER CITY — Here's a look at what you can find during the First Friday art walk on Friday, Dec. 3, in downtown Baker City.

CROSSROADS CARNEGIE ART CENTER

2020 Auburn Ave.

The annual "Gift of Art" open Christmas show begins with a reception on First Friday from 5:30-8 p.m. The focus of this exhibit is to offer a way to support local artists while shopping for holiday gifts.

"We will have fine arts, ceramics, jewelry, textiles, and many other mediums, so there will surely be something special for everyone to find for themselves, or someone they love," said Alyson Spiering, community art director.

Crossroads also has the Ornament Expo going through Dec. 24.

"Be sure to go on a treasure hunt through our 12-foot Christmas tree and the dance studio mirror to find yourself a locally made Christmas ornament," Spiering said.

There is still time to enter items in these two shows. Those interested in entering ornament art or gift pieces for The Gift of Art show can stop by Crossroads (10 a.m.-5 p.m. Monday-Saturday), or visit the Quick Forms link at www.crossroads-arts.org. The center will accept entries until Dec. 24.

Downstairs, artwork by Baker Middle School students will be on display.

For information, contact Spiering at 541-523-5369 or alyson@crossroads-arts.org.
